KEY & HATEM BRIDGES TO BEGIN CASHLESS TOLL COLLECTION IN OCTOBER 2019

The Maryland Transportation Authority (MDTA) has set the dates to begin cashless toll collection at the Thomas J. Hatem Memorial Bridge (US 40) in Harford and Cecil counties and at the Francis Scott Key Bridge (I-695) in Baltimore. Prior to the morning rush hour on Wednesday, October 16, all-electronic toll collection will begin at the Hatem Bridge via E-ZPass® and Video Tolling. All-electronic toll collection at the Key Bridge will begin Wednesday, October 30.

As of those dates, cash will no longer be accepted as payment. New overhead tolling structures, or gantries, have been installed at the bridges to collect tolls electronically. The existing toll plazas will still be up at the Hatem and Key bridges until 2021. Drivers will continue through the plazas without stopping and must obey all roadway signs and speed limits, as these plazas will remain active work zones.

The MDTA's E-ZPass® Maryland Outreach Team will be at scheduled events to provide free E-ZPass® transponders and to sign up new customers at the following locations.
