NEWSLETTER

VOLUME 51 DECEMBER 2013

If you are not doing anything TOMORROW, Saturday 30th come down to Murray Bridge for the Sixth Street Artist Market in sixth street & the Farmers Market at the Wharf. There will be 30 artists selling their wares, FREE collage Christmas card making workshop by me using paint, tissue paper, print making with lace and the Go Baby cutter for adults and another tutor for the kids. There is face painting, exhibitions and The Sunshine Van. 9:00am - 1:30pm Sixth st Murray Bridge. Farmers Market 8am - 12noon.

My arty glitter friend Réne Strohmayr will have her Sunshine Van, traveling art Caravan there with cool art to by from a variety of artists. Réne will also be at the Nairne Christmas Market, see events page 2. Like the Sunshine Van on Facebook.

The Murray Bridge Studio Gallery has an exhibition on at the moment till January sometime called "The Collection of Camouflage". It features my Evil Queen and Sugar Plum Fairy costumes, it also has sculptures using second hand and worn out clothing crated by Elisabeth De Koke.

In Canberra next year is the Creative Textile Show which seems to be on only every couple of years. I plan to go this time and maybe I'll see you there?

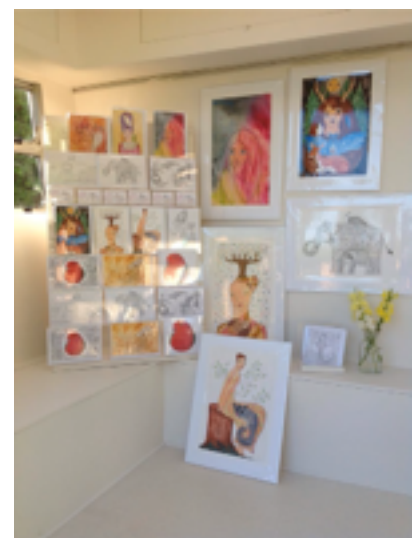

Have a very Merry Christmas and Safe New Year

Cheers

Samantha
