Service Project Update

In May, 30 small quilts were given to CHKD. The total number of small quilts delivered so far is 173. We have been asked to make bereavement quilts 22 inch to 25 inch square for CHKD and Portsmouth NICU. CHKD could use some comfort quilts for babies that get to go home but they don't have a very good prognosis. For these quilts you could use brighter fabrics and sizes could be approximately 26 inch to 34 inch square. Thank you for supporting Service Projects and sharing your love of quilting. For more information, contact Gala Damato at 872-6823 or email at gala.damato@gmail.com.

More Quilting Quips and Quotes

You Know You're a Quilter When...

..... you have to convert the bed in the guest bedroom, which you've been using as a sorting table for fabrics pulled from "the stash" for the next project, back into a bed so that a friend can stay over for the night without sleeping on the couch. (Of course, the friend could sleep on the couch, but you'd have to move some of the quilts, including the current project, off of it first.).

.....you have more DEADLINE entries in your Daytimer related to quilting than you have for work or family – or worse yet, more than work and family combined!!!

.....the speed dial number on your phone is to the local quilt shop.

.....everyone in your building comes to you when they have a rip in clothes or a falling hem, because they know you have needles and thread.

.....every time your boss wears a particular shirt you have to bite your tongue to keep from asking him if you can have it when he gets tired of it.

.....your fingertips are so rough that you can't pull on a pair of panty-hose, but you don't care.

.....your ironing board is always set up but you never iron clothes on it.

.....there's more fabric in the house than food.

.....you ask for fabric or gift certificates to fabric stores instead of other gifts for your birthday, anniversary, or Christmas.

.....you consider fabric strewn about the room as either a) furniture or b) decor, either of which means you don't have to pick it up.

.....your family buys you "quilt" gifts (fabrics, scissors, tools and toys) for birthday and Christmas.

..... you find yourself reaching for a head of lettuce in the grocery store and realize you are wearing a thimble on your finger.

.....you offer to teach teenagers how to quilt.

.....A book of block patterns sits on your bedstand instead of a novel.

.....Your trash never has fabric scraps larger than 1" by 1" in it.

.....Your sock drawer has fat quarters in it.

.....you go into the feed store and buy three jars of udder cream, two packages of horse bandages (for thimbles) and three jars of orvus soap, and you don't have any pets.

.....You clean up your sewing room and your kids want to know if you're sick or leaving!

....."stash" isn't a verb meaning to stuff something in a drawer.

.....your "UFO"s aren't from outer space.

.....you remember when cotton cost you $0.85 a yard...and you still have some of it!

.....Your first thought when someone announces they're expecting is, "What kind of baby quilt should I make?"

Honor Quilts

On May 14th Sherry Behun, Kim Beatley and Gala Damato took 28 beautiful quilts made by PPQG members to Walter Reed in Bethesda, Maryland. Mia Nam is the Marine Family Support Coordinator and was our contact. She reserved a conference room for us, where we displayed the Honor Quilts on tables. Service members came in and each selected a quilt. It was so much fun to watch them select their quilt. Many had their caregivers with them to help choose. They were so appreciative and amazed that someone would make them a quilt. We received a multitude of thanks, smiles, handshakes and hugs. We have some pictures and will share more about our trip at the June meetings. Thank you so much to all the guild members that piece the tops, long arm the quilts, sew the bindings and labels, make the pillow cases, contribute funds and support this worthy project in other ways. We raised $132 from the items raffled at the April Anniversary Potluck. Thank you to those that provided raffle items and bought raffle tickets.

Since October 2014, 66 quilts have been delivered to service members at Walter Reed in Bethesda. Several others have been given out locally. DRUM ROLL, please, 954 quilts have been completed and distributed by PPQG members since 2007. Several quilts are still in various stages of completion. You may continue to support Honor Quilts by piecing signature blocks into quilt tops, sewing backs, labels and bindings, and making pillowcases for the quilts. A pattern for pillowcases is on the PPQG web site on the Links page. Please support the generous long arm quilters that quilt the beautiful tops for Honor Quilts. Please contact Sherry Behun, sherry.behun@verizon.net, if you want to help or have any questions about PPQG Honor Quilts.
