

CONSTRUCTION & EXTRACTION INDUSTRY SUICIDE PREVENTION CONFERENCE | TENTATIVE PROGRAM

Miami, Florida | May 21-22, 2020 | 8:30am to 5:00pm

Proactive Insights & Approaches | Certification and 6 CEUs

SAVE THE DATES

Day 1:

- ⇒ Best Practices and Bringing Awareness of A Not-So-Obvious Crisis This 2-Hour discussion sets the stage, centering around persons who have experienced losing employees to suicide in the Construction and Extraction Industry. The segment identifies what elements are (aligned with job titles and responsibilities) having the greatest impact on the Construction & Extraction occupations, and fields, as well as how these occupations might have impact on the unseen stress levels. relevant to gaining a wide awareness of suicidal commitment, attempts and a call for implementing more proactive measures.
- ⇒ Unmasking Areas of the Highest Percentage and Proactive Approaches Discussion spearheaded by industry experts on taking the challenges beyond statistical data. Working with human resources management on employee assistance programs (EAPs) that might be considered of importance to alleviating stress management, cultural differences and metrics systems that might impact the way responsibilities are evaluated.

Opening Keynote Speaker | "To Save A Life by Using Every Available Resource"

- ⇒ Training the Trainers: Management: Purveyors of Order and Technique Using the benefits of employee assistance programs (EAPs) to the workplace. Situational Leadership to enhance the understanding of suicide prevention in the Construction & Extraction Industry entails. This 2-hour training program is mandatory for site managers, project managers, schedulers, and other areas where supervisory measures and strongly enforced.

Day 2:

- ⇒ Sessions Are Being Designed to Address Areas Relevant To The Project Management of Employees and Workforce Development Discussion will include and utilize World Health Organizations/Pan-American Health Organization alliances to design and assist perspectives. This forum transcends simplifying symptoms and psychological importance.
- ⇒ Working with the national and international suicide prevention organizations, will be included in the discussion. These forums will be designed with subjects and topics that are germane to the concerns of the Construction and Extraction industry's labor force.
- ⇒ Training programs will be interactive and pragmatically presented. Stress management, insightful shared best practices will be encouraged, demonstrative angles and approach methods will be discussed. These workshops are beyond simply panelist presentations. More planning are being completed.