

Subject Access Request Form (Data Protection Act 2018)

Under the Data Protection Act 2018, it is not a requirement to complete this form, however in doing so, it ensures that we direct your request more efficiently and are able to gather the information that you wish to receive.

In order for us to process the request you must provide us with a copy of a suitable form of identification (ID). This is a legal requirement to ensure that we do not inadvertently release your records to a third party.

Please provide a copy of the following ID.

- passport
- driver's license
- Council Tax bill
- recent utility bill (within the last 3 months)

Only one form of ID is required and it should be a copy rather than the original document.

Upon receipt of your proof of identification and full details of the information you are requesting, we have one month to respond to your request.

FAQs

How long does it take?

The legal requirement is for the request to be completed within one calendar month from the day after the request has been received. So if a request was received on 1st September 2018, it would be due 2nd October 2018. If the due date falls on a weekend or bank holiday, the due date will be the next working day.

Will I get a copy of all my personal data that I have requested?

Mostly yes; however, there are exemptions under the General Data Protection Regulation that prevent certain records being released, or that require information to be redacted (removed). The main exemptions are as follows:

- Law enforcement - catching or prosecuting offenders.
- National security.
- Assessing or collection of taxes/duties.
- Adoption records and reports.
- Personal data about someone else, otherwise known as third party information.
- Information which may cause harm or distress to the requester.
- Information that would identify someone who has supplied data in confidence about you.
- Legal Professional Privilege.

In circumstances where data held on you also relates to another person, the Council will need to seek their permission before this information can be released or the information will be redacted.

What if I want to access someone else's information?

You only have right to access your own personal data under the Data Protection Act. You do not have a right of access to personal data about any other individual e.g. your family, friends or neighbours, except in the following circumstances:

If you are a parent requesting information about a child under 16 that you have legal responsibility for; there is no automatic right to the data. If a child is old enough to give informed consent and understands the contents of the information, the Council will be guided by their wishes. In most cases children aged 13 and above are regarded as having sufficient maturity to respond to such requests but each case will be judged on its own merits. In all cases disclosure would only occur if it is in the best interests of the child.

There are some instances where individuals can access information about third parties:

- Consent from the individual(s) to have their information shared (section 3.)
- A solicitor is requesting information on behalf of a client - a signed authority form from the person concerned is required.
- An agent (i.e. a family member, friend or a charitable organisation) has written authorisation to act on behalf of the person.

Any additional questions, please contact data.protection@brighton-hove.gov.uk
