

A note from the chef...

I've been a chef for many years and after longing for most of my adult life, I eventually found my way to Italy - Positano, Italy on the Amalfi coast - to be exact. I went there to learn about the local cuisine, meet and be taught by master chefs and to discover the fundamentals of Italian cooking using only local and in-season ingredients.

I'm in love with the country, the food, the wine, the traditions and the way of life. I want to introduce my clients, both old and new, to La Dolce Vita. It is found in Italy. Join me on a 7 day culinary excursion that will change you forever. It may be your first trip to Italy but it certainly will not be your last!

Ciao!
