

Daily in Your Presence
Day 14
Lifter of My Head

But thou, O LORD, art a shield for me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.
Psalm 3:3

From the Father's Heart

My child, when your shoulders are drooping, and your heart is heavy, look to Me. Life is filled with ordinary days, but I can make them extraordinary if you let Me. I care about your concerns. I will not only lift your eyes toward heaven, so you can get a glimpse of My glory, but I will also lift the burdens of your heart. Trust Me.

A Grateful Response

Morning by morning, Lord, You lift me high above the cares of my world, far beyond the enemies of fear, depression, rejection, and discouragement. With pride and satisfaction, I can see on a clear day forever—a sneak preview of my permanent heavenly place with You. Thank You, Lord, for visions of hope.

Simple Truth

Looking up always gives us a flesh perspective.