

This is a farm to table semi-dry blend of the St Croix, Frontenac Gris and Landot grapes.

When you are at the winery, note the railings around the porches of the home. Each spindle was hand-made by Steph's grandfather. He took great pride in telling the story that each one of those spindles was made by Three Turns with the Lathe. When these three wines were blended together, the name just seemed to fit.

