

A note from the chef...

I've been a chef for many years and after longing for most of my adult life, I found my way to Italy - Positano, Italy on the Amalfi coast - to be exact. I originally went there to learn about the local cuisine, meet and be taught by master chefs and to discover the fundamentals of Italian cooking using only local and in-season ingredients. Now, I go there to introduce others, like yourself, to the Amalfi Coast, to cook with you, to tour and enjoy wine with you and to show you this region through my eyes. I've been going annually and recently semi-annually since 2010. Benefit from my contacts there. Join us on our next trip!

I'm in love with the country, the food, the wine, the traditions and the way of life. I want to introduce my clients, both old and new, to La Dolce Vita. It is found in Italy. Join me on a 10 day culinary excursion that will change you forever. It may be your first trip to Italy but it certainly will not be your last!

Ciao!
