QuickPick

QuickPick makes it easy to schedule only machines that need service. See real-time indicators of depletion, sales since restock, and days since restock for each machine. This makes it easy to schedule the highest-priority machines with just a few clicks or taps. After machines are selected for service, Greenlite Data generates a pick list of which products and quantities are needed for each machine, plus totals that can be used for truck loading. The results: only one trip from the truck to each machine, less extra product on the truck, less spoilage, and lower fuel costs.
