Subject: MEA CULPA11

I jumped into all this--as a non-member, just trying to get a handle on what's going on. I attended some meeting and got the impression that you guys were not an active corporation. Well, that's not obviously the case, but I had no business putting my mouth, my emails and my foot in places before I knew you were organized (just, perhaps need some tightening up).

I backing off any suggestions I made as premature. Something is working---we must need to make it work better. My membership check is almost in the mail!!

I apologize and just want to be a productive member of this great project!!

At least we stirred the pot!!!

Warmly and apologetically,

Stu Webb
