

G&W Laboratories Engages The Harel Group to Explore Acquisition and Collaboration Opportunities

March 13, 2017

G&W Laboratories (G&W) engages The Harel Group to identify and gain access to new business opportunities through acquisition and/or collaboration transactions to accelerate Company growth.

Since G&W was founded in 1919, their focus has been on helping people realize their potential through development of reliable and effective medicines, care for their employees and community, and generating value for their partners. G&W is a family-owned organization guided by enduring principles -- integrity, respect, fortitude, faith, growth, ethics, unity, humility, gratitude and service.

Today, G&W develops, manufactures and markets products in a variety of dosage forms, including creams, ointments, gels, liquids, oral solids and suppositories, primarily in the ethical pharmaceutical sector. The company is best known for its Dermatology portfolio with products across a range of therapeutic categories like anti-inflammatory, antibiotic and antifungal.

To augment their internal product development efforts to fuel the near term growth, G&W is actively looking for acquisition of product and/or company. The Company is also looking for in-licensing and distribution opportunities with focus on dermatology and other specialty areas.

G&W has engaged The Harel Group, a business development advisory firm, founded and led by Jacob Harel, to support their multi-faceted business development strategies. By entering into this
