FEATURED SJO MEMBER MUSICIAN – MS. BRENDA ALFORD

Vocalist, composer and recording artist, Brenda Alford, had quite a remarkable beginning to her musical career. It began in 1978 in Baltimore, Maryland, just three days after meeting and talking with the great jazz singer, Ella Fitzgerald. Since that time Brenda has performed jazz, pop and gospel concerts throughout North America, the Caribbean and Asia. She has worked with some of the greatest names in jazz including Pete Minger, Stanley Turrentine, Sonny Stitt, Philly Jo Jones, Sam Jones, Ron Carter, Tommy Flanagan, Keter Betts, Lou Donaldson, Al Foster and Cyrus Chestnut, to name just a few.

Ms. Alford has also recorded with jazz piano legend Horace Silver on the Blue Note label, and performed in concert with saxophone innovator Flip Phillips, formerly of the Woody Herman band. She sings on pianist Billy Marcus' CD, "Hamp"- a tribute to Lionel Hampton and, at Mr. Hampton's request, she performed with Billy and a South Florida all-star band at the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival in Moscow, Idaho for his 90th birthday.

Her own recordings include "Brenda Alford Live at Morgan State," a single, "Last Night In Baltimore," and most recently, "My Favorite Things," recorded in concert at Fort Lauderdale, Florida's Old Dillard Museum with the Othello Molineaux Quartet, featuring Othello on the steel pans, Michael Gerber on piano, Nicky Orta on bass and Ernesto Simpson, Jr. on drums. Brenda has also performed in two movies - Jon Waters' "Hairspray", and Barry Levinson's "Avalon".

The elegant and talented Brenda Alford resides in South Florida. She has attended the University of Miami as a jazz vocal performance major, and her compositions have been performed by the award-winning University of Miami Jazz Vocal Ensemble, J.V.1, under the direction of Larry Lapin. She presently teaches in Miami-Dade County Public Schools where she has received well-earned honors, and has also been honored by Miami-Dade County as well as by the city of Homestead, Florida V.F.W. Auxiliary Post as Teacher of the Year.

You can catch Brenda Alford in concert: Sundays, January 22nd and February 12th with The Jerry Fischer Orchestra for "Those Swingin' Big Bands - 3:00pm at the Zinman Auditorium, Boca Raton Jewish Community Center, 21050 - 95th Avenue, Boca Raton, Tickets $25.00; And on Sunday, January 29th, for the Annual Gospel Brunch at Outback Steakhouse (5829 SW 73rd Street, South Miami). ## SAYING FAREWELL by VP Holly Spillane

Over the year-end holidays we said goodbye to two important people who, I'm proud to say, were very dear friends and family, and each were Jazz advocates to the world. SJO member Ingrid Pastorius was not only the wife of late, legendary bassist and South Florida Jazz Hall of Famer, Jaco Pastorius (she toured the world with revolutionary musicians Wayne Shorter, Joe Zawinul (Weather Report), Joni Mitchell, Herbie Hancock etc.), and raised/educated Jaco's twin sons as a single mom to become artists, jazz musicians and sensitive world citizens, Ingrid was an activist with passions that ran deep and wide. While she was fiercely committed to keeping Jaco's musical legacy true and strong (an ongoing 20+ year battle with some who would prefer exploitation), and was often misunderstood and criticized, her modest home and lifestyle spoke volumes and she never profited financially from her tireless, often painful endeavors. Ingrid was inspiring to so many and was dedicated to mentoring young people to become healthy leaders, focused and involved in the arts and life. She had created the Three Views Foundation for the purpose of propagating music education in communities and schools, and was recently involved as a Jazz educator with "Kids Talk Radio", an organization based in Los Angeles. To know more about Ingrid visit <http://www.JacoP.net> ; <http://www.facebook.com/ingrid.pastorius>

Bassist, Pepe Aparicio, enjoyed over 40 years as a professional musician and played the last 8 or more with my husband's Latin Jazz band, Oriente. A native New Yorker of Cuban descent, he traveled to Cuba by ferry each summer from Key West, absorbing his culture while also growing up around NYC's greatest musicians. Pepe experienced some of the best, vibrant times for music in NYC including the explosive Fania years, and collaborated with many major players including Babatunde Olatunji, Hilton Ruiz, Claudio Roditi, Ashford & Simpson, Toninho Horta, Willie Nelson, and even Jimi Hendrix (one gig!). He was also a musical director and bassist with the great Mongo Santamaria. Moving with his wife Lily and kids to Miami in the late-80's, Pepe became a leader in creating the Latin jazz scene here. His own band, Saoco, played frequently at Mark Soyka's "Music Room" on South Beach, and he hosted the popular, weekly Latin Jazz Jam at the Cactus Cantina, introducing many (including me!) to that exciting, rhythmic side of Jazz. Pepe Aparicio was a musician's musician. He excelled at laying down the bass line in a solid, steady and soulful groove, reminiscent of James Jamerson and Bob Cranshaw, and his style and personal character will forever be held dear to those he played with, befriended and influenced. <http://www.facebook.com/pepe.aparicio1>
