The Digital Iridology Computerized System

The eyes...our personal blueprint

Iridology has taken a huge step forward! Now you can view your iris photos instantly on the computer screen with digital precision.

Iridology is a powerful tool used by trained health professionals to help people like you get to the root causes of their health issues. When properly done, it can be used to gauge the status of a person's health. The iris fibers are controlled by the autonomic nervous system which is a component of the brain and spine. The irises are therefore a reflection of what is being generated by this very important system. Nothing in the body can function without the autonomic nervous system.

The iris color, pigments, discolorations, the reflection of the iris fibers, the pupil formation, stress factors, genetic predispositions, and even the sclera (white area of the eye) all provide very important information.

An iridologist will check for fiber density, structural integrity and the resiliency of iris fibers which are indicators of the internal systems via the nervous system. This is a very comprehensive way to look at the whole body and determine what approach is best to help you improve your over-all health.

The irises can point to the areas of inflammation, toxic build-up, areas that may be prone to weakness, the presence of acid in the body as well as over-all body structure. It points out the areas that are in vital need of nutritional support as well as providing information about what is causing your current health problems.
