Welcome to the 2019 “Antiques Tourist” for Somerset, Devon and Dorset

@FunBuying1

@FunBuying

Hello and welcome to The Antiques Tourist 2019. Firstly a big THANK YOU to our loyal advertisers and readers – we all need each other to make trade happen! And from the response this year, businesses in Somerset, Devon and Dorset see great benefits from being part of “The Antiques Tourist”! As a result we have grown again, this time to 52 pages, solely due to popular demand.

Our antiques tour on pages 4-6 covers West and South Somerset, with insights into a number of businesses off the normal trade routes, so please check them out, even if you don't follow the whole trail in one trip. Please remember to look further afield into East Dorset, South Devon, North Dorset and Central Devon. In fact, our whole region is well covered by antiques, vintage, retro and reclamation dealers, so why not use our guide to create your own “trail”?

Please tell us about your exploits – email us; hello@theantiquetourist.com and we will

The Yarnmarket at Dunster

Touring our lovely region is always a delight, and for dealers and browsers it is a great opportunity to combine pleasure with business. For our 2019 tour, I am starting at Porlock Weir, almost the most westerly part of the county. Sorry, no antique shops here, but a wonderful little harbour with working and pleasure boats to admire. Then take the A39 eastwards past Dunster and the castle, into Carhampton and our first stop at Chris's Crackers Junk Shop, in a former garage and filling station. A great selection of reclamation, curios, furniture and china.

Continuing east along the A39, through Williton and towards Taunton, you will find Keith Richards Antiques at Torweston Farm. This is set in such a tranquil "combe" nestled under the western end of the Quantock Hills. Next stop is Crowcombe Court, a Grade I listed 18th century house in the village of Crowcombe. Top Drawer Antiques hold their annual fair here. For 2019 it is on 8th and 9th June.

Approaching Taunton, look out for Courtlands trading estate on the right, and here you will find Timeless Furniture and Stuff 'n' Nonsense.

Then into Taunton to Selwoods Antiques in lovely old premises just up from the town centre Sainsburys. If it's Monday, walk 200 yards to Silver Street Antiques Market – the largest one-day antiques market in the West Country.

Leave town along the A38 to Wellington, to find Fuller Stuff in the Old Dairy, North Street. Here Sharon and Kevin offer a great variety of secondhand, vintage, reproduction and a few antiques.

Take South Street out of Wellington, heading for Ford Street. You will soon see a signpost to Chard. Follow this, and find Stuart Bull Antiques in Boden Street, sharing premises with Floweringi.

From Chard it is a short hop to Ilminster, and an offering of 6 antiques and related business. Approaching from Chard you will first find Ilminster Antiques & Interiors at

Cottages at the western end of The Quantock Hills

Larchfield Estate. On an historical note, the line of the original Taunton to Chard canal runs adjacent to this estate, with some sections still in water. On the town side is the site of the old "inclined plain" used to raise canal boats up sharp slopes. Into town, and find The Greenhouse in Silver Street, where Georgie and her team offer Fair-Trade coffee amongst their upcycled stock. Remains to be Seen in East Street, is a lovely family run antiques centre, and just up the road is No.57 a very interesting old building with a great tearoom. On the edge of town is Phoenix Rising at Rose Mills Industrial Estate, Station Road, just before the A303 junction. From the A303 roundabout, head back towards Chard about ½ mile to Busby's Reclamation. Here you will find gardenalia, fountains, tiles and bricks, in a copse-like setting.

Then take the A303 easterly to Hayes End roundabout. Continue east about one mile, and after the first exit, (carefully) pull over to turn right across the dual carriageway to Wessex Antiques Bedsteads at Percombe. For anyone interested in beds, and quality English and Continental furniture, this is a great stop-off, and owner Jeremy Peachall is a font of knowledge.

Rejoin the A303 westbound, immediately taking the exit sliproad. Cross under A303 and rejoin in an easterly direction, taking the next exit for Martock. Turn left and you will find Country Style Furniture and Hen House Antiques just off Stoke Road.

Drive north towards Martock, then turn left towards South Petherton. Here you will find Castle Reclamation, at Parrett Works, home to some fabulous dressed Hamstone, and a great furniture showroom. Go back through Martock and Long Load, into Somerton. Approaching in this direction, you will find

Willys Rope Walk Sign, Ilminster

Tinhouse Home & Garden Antiques at South Hill. Another historical point is that South Hill was developed as bungalow/smallholdings for WWI veterans. Over the years the original buildings have gradually been modernised.

Into Somerton town centre for Market Cross Antiques Centre – a very well established and interesting stop. Almost next door in the Brunel Shopping centre is Jules the Jewels – jewellery workshop run by Julie Waugh. On the 3rd Friday of every month is Somerton Vintage Market, held in The Market Place.

Now take the road to Langport. Two interesting businesses are located adjacent to the River Parrett in the Shakespeare Glass Building at Westover. Langport Clocks is run by clock restorer Steve Brown, and next to him is Spiral Path Book Studio – where Paul Taylor carries out conservation, repair and rebinding of historical records, documents and books.

The River Parrett runs behind the building as it wends its way from West Dorset to the Bristol Channel north of Bridgwater. The Parrett Trail is a fantastic walk, and takes around 2 days from source to mouth, through amazing countryside. The river is 37 miles long, although the Parrett Trail is 10 miles longer at 47 miles. The Parrett was navigable from Bridgwater to Langport and beyond to Thorney, with wharfs visible along the river, particularly here in Langport.

Langport Antiques & Vintage Market takes place on the 2nd Saturday of every month in Cocklemoor Carpark and The Undercroft.

Last stop of the day – Coates English Willow Visitor Centre at Stoke St Gregory. Take A378 out of Langport towards Taunton. Take the first right signed “Wick”. Follow the road through Oath to Stathe, then turn left towards Stoke St Gregory. The Willow and Wetlands Centre is on the right hand side, just beyond the village.

This trail could well be split into two days, possibly stopping over in Chard. But PLEASE check out opening times of the individual businesses before you set out!

Editor's Note: Why not check our other publication www.thechardflyer.co.uk for accommodation in Chard?
