To whom it may concern,

The purpose of this mail is to briefly introduce my book. It is a true story of endurance, heroism, survival and the full strength and power of the human spirit.

Everybody is unique. I am enforced unique (in the world) because of the sheer fact that I received four kidneys from relatives (successively from my brother, father, mother and wife) during the past twenty years.

I wrote my - what others call - sensational, gripping and powerful story in: Dancing On Sand - The gift of time

More than a book about living-donor renal transplants, it reads like a thrilling novel about the inconceivability of the unavoidable. The themes that appear in my book – vulnerability, perseverance, love, uncertainty, survival, compassion and offering resistance to destiny – are universal themes. Dancing On Sand embodies not just the struggle to be André Bek, but the struggle to be human, in glory and shame, secrets and contradictions, pain and joy.

My tale provides valuable inspiration for others struggling to return to an active life after a dire illness. Dancing On Sand is an inspirational tale of hope and accomplishment where everyone can find personal meaning in.

My book received substantial attention from the Dutch media (TV/radio, newspapers, magazines) and Members of Parliament. I am familiar with the fact that the shortage of donor organs is a matter of grave concern in the world (e.g. 56.000 EU-people are on an organ waiting list. Fifteen patients die every day while waiting for an organ). In that perspective, Dancing On Sand can be also read as a political and critical statement. It brings attention to the very urgent need for organ donors around the world. Dancing On Sand received in Holland - without exception - praising reviews and enthusiastic reactions.

It is my wish to have Dancing On Sand considered for publication by foreign publishers. That is why I wrote this proposal.

My publisher will be happy to give you more information concerning Dancing On Sand.

Looking forward to hearing from you, Yours faithfully,

André Bek

Contact:

LezersPoort Publishers Attn: David Grabijn Raamvest 9-B 2011 ZH Haarlem the Netherlands +31 (0)23 5313614 dg@lezerspoort.nl

