

31. Privacy. We collect, use and share your personal information (PI) with affiliates, licensees and other third parties to: (a) provide and administer the services you request, including use of corporate discounts and loyalty programs; (b) carry out relevant identity, fraud, security, driving license and credit checks; (c) maintain, develop and improve the administration and management of our services; (d) protect our interests and enforce our rights, including pursuing available remedies or limiting damage that we may sustain; (e) protect the rights, privacy, safety and/or property of you and others; (f) comply with or as permitted by law; and (g) provide you with information about goods and services we think may interest you, unless you opt out. You may limit the use and sharing of your PI for marketing purposes, and you may access or correct your PI. Also see the Connected Car & Location Data section above. This information may be used by us during and after the rental period (if applicable law allows). To provide you services or in the course of our business operations, we may need to transfer your PI to locations outside of the country where you rented the car, and your PI may be subject to laws of other countries. By accepting these Terms and Conditions, you consent to your personal data being exported to countries other than the country where you rented the car, including to the United States of America. By requesting and using our services, you expressly agree to our collection, use and sharing of your PI for as long as the law allows. For more detail about our privacy practices please see the full Privacy Notice which may be obtained at www.gatewayautorental.com/privacy or by writing to Gateway Auto Rental, LLC, 2280 Savannah Highway, Charleston, South Carolina 29414 Attn: Legal Department.
