About the Author

My name is Jasmine Davis and I own a youth development program and homeschool. I have taught children starting from early childhood to second grade. My goal is to increase the literacy rate amongst youth by providing parents, teachers, etc. with fun and simple tools to help children broaden their vocabulary and knowledge of sight words. These activities will increase the number of sight words they recognize and give them the confidence they need to become a strong reader.

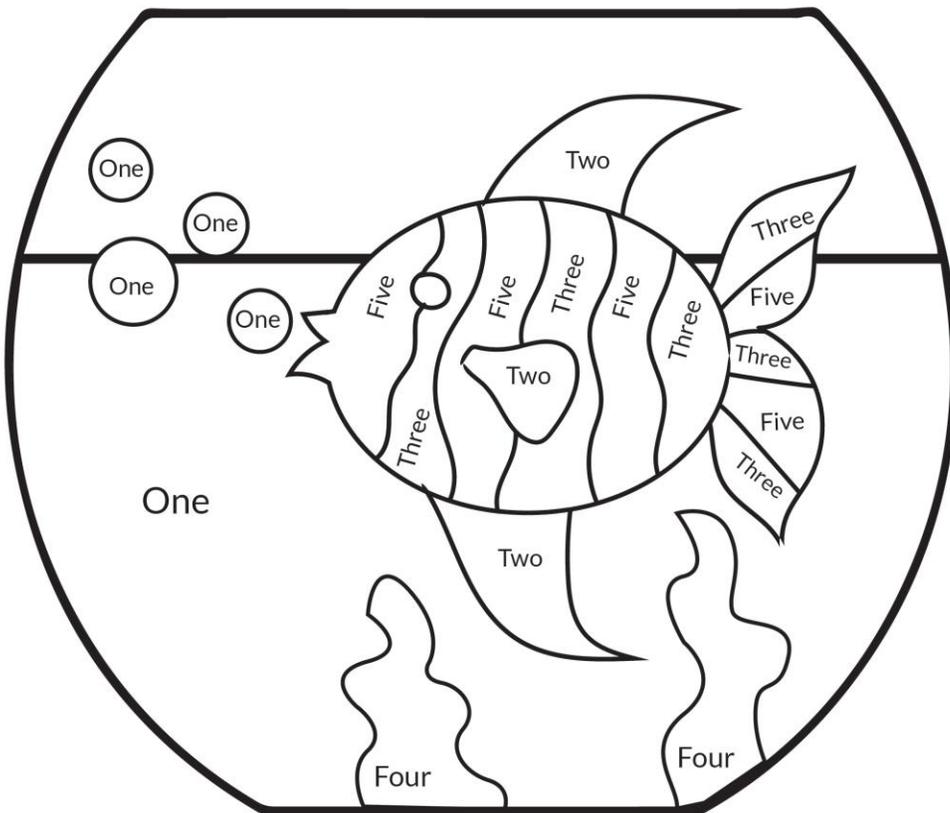

Learning doesn't just happen in the classroom. In fact, the most effective and enduring learning occurs at home. Make learning fun with these easy worksheets that will ensure learning becomes part of your kids' daily routine.
