Fablus

A JOYFUL FAMILY STORY

Fablus publishing was born of Francis Turenne and Nicole Lebel's desire to provide children with fun and original tools for growing up beautifully. Married with three children and business partners for over 13 years, their passion for happiness and harmony has helped them develop as self-taught philosophy and wellness practitioners. Recognizing that children face great challenges from an early age, they have begun to develop tools to transform these challenges into learning opportunities regarding happiness and life philosophies. Family remains their number one priority, with each family member contributing to the success of their projects: Mother Nicole weaves life lessons with words, Father Francis creates colourful and fun images, while their children, Eva, Jasmine and Colin inspire them with their creative sparkling eyes and joyful hearts. They're also excellent literary critics.
