

LeAnthony Williams Sr.

LeAnthony is an Atlanta native that truly has a passion for kids. LeAnthony came from a well-known family in Atlanta, but found himself going down a different path. Through does experiences LeAnthony has taking the charge to make sure to have a direct impact on the kids in his community and to make sure they stay on track to go to college.

LeAnthony is a graduate of Fredrick Douglass High School, and an avid supporter of the recreational programs in that area.

LeAnthony has volunteered and held several positions with iDareU since 2011. His sons LeAnthony Jr. currently at Clemson University, and Malik Williams who's currently being recruited by several major colleges, both have been a part of iDareU since 2011 as well.

LeAnthony is married to LaRhonda Williams and has a daughter Paris Williams who's a very gifted volleyball player at Buford High School.
