

WHAT IF I NEED TO GO TO COURT

Going to court should be a last resort. But if you do need to go to court, you will still need to show that you have either attended a Mediation Information & Assessment Meeting (MIAM) or that you don't need to attend a MIAM because of your circumstances. You need to do this by sending the relevant court form with your court papers which we can arrange for you. You can take your case to court yourself instead of using a lawyer (solicitor or barrister). For most people, the court and the way it works is unfamiliar. We can help recommend a solicitor or barrister.