

Daily Verse and Comment
Day 17
Rock

From the ends of the earth I call to you, I call as my heart grows faint; lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

Psalm 61:2

From the Father's Heart

My child, I hear your cries for help. I am never too busy to come. I am only a prayer away. Are you being chased by shadows of your past? Are your circumstances robbing you of strength? Come to Me. I am your rock-solid shelter. There you can rest, until your heart is strong enough to travel again.

A Grateful Response

You are the stabilizing force in my life, Lord. I am but a pebble, but You are my rock, my hiding place in a world that is shaky and uncertain. Blessed be the rock. Your strength is awesome.

Simple Truth

Jesus is the solid rock of our foundation.
