

NES Health has been effective in supporting people with many health concerns including:

- Depression
- ADD/ADHD
- Problems with mental clarity
- Fatigue (energy issues including chronic)
- Stress
- Memory issues
- Insomnia (difficulties with deep restful sleep)
- Nerve damage
- Repressed and blocked emotions
- ME/CFS/PVFS
- Irritable bowel disorder
- Dermatitis/Eczema/skin rashes
- Epilepsy
- Allergies
- Autism
- Dementia
- Food sensitivities
- Blood sugar regulation issues
- Hypothyroid issues
- Reduction of pain
- Difficulties with nutrient absorption
- Digestion problems
- Immune and defense systems regulation
- Hormone balance
- Body weight issues (normalization of body weight)

The NES Health approach to wellness is a unique and revolutionary concept. In the NES scientific model, the body is a combination of physical, chemical, emotional, mental, energetic and memory aspects. NES Health is a true holistic restorative and maintenance system that works at all these levels.

The NES Health is the first and only instrument capable of accurately describing a full range of information about the location and causes of ill health. It allows the practitioner to get to the root causes of illness and can find factors that even the most sophisticated and expensive laboratory and imaging tests may not detect. All this is done rapidly and non-invasively.

Additionally, it can provide precise information about the specific infoceuticals needed to repair the body's bioenergy field, bringing the body back towards optimal functioning, healing and well-being. It is a uniquely profound and effective system.