Ms. Jones,

My son, John, is a patient at A.I. Dupont. He was just diagnosed with Multiple Myeloma the end of November and has been here since then. The so very thoughtful and generous gift that you gave him made him so excited as he hasn't been able to accumulate any funds lately (he's been ill for awhile, we just didn't know with what) and so now will be able to buy gifts for the family at some point. Thank you so much.

On another note...I am assuming you are Tamesha's mom...I had no idea this is what it felt like to go through something like this. I have four sons and have been a single mom for many years. I thought we'd been through everything but had no idea how much worse it could get. Since you obviously created something positive from the experience, I just want to say how impressed and inspired I am to try and do the same. Thank you for that.

My best to you. Happy Holidays to you and yours.

Jonnie
