The Anderson County Conservation District, in conjunction with the Franklin and Woodford County Conservation Districts, were delighted to host staff members from the offices of Senator Mitch McConnell and Rand Paul, as well as 6th District Congressman Andy Barr, to tour "Justamere Farm," owned by Susan and David Burge.

The farm tour gave everyone an opportunity to see firsthand how the money that is appropriated for farmers is used in practical applications to improve farming operations and conserve our natural resources. In addition to NRCS personnel, local farmers and officials, we were also honored to have Kentucky's "Mr. Agriculture" Warren Beeler, KACD Area 6 Director Steve Coleman, State Representative Joe Graviss, and Division of Conservation Director Paulette Akers in attendance. We thank them for their support, and thank the Burge Family for hosting us.
