

June 2015

Communication with parents: Following every session we write on the large white board the activities the children have been involved with. Staff will make it clearer to parents what they have been learning and exploring rather than compiling a list of activities.

Much more detailed information is now being given to parents who are more able to continue with the learning at home, developing activities further.

Respecting our resources: We will be focussing the children on taking responsibility for looking after our equipment and being respectful of books, adults and each other. We have discussed this as a team to ensure we are reinforcing consistent boundaries.

This is working well, we will continue supporting children in this way.

Policy reviews: Emergency Staffing – no changes required

Fire Evacuation Procedure – no changes required

Safeguarding – review of procedure regarding absent children. Parents will be contacted each day their child is absent if they have not informed us.
