What have we improved?

- Banwell Buddies have been selected to be champion of a new initiative which contains key messages from neuroscience on how to best support attachment. More information will follow on this once Kirsty has attended the training.
- New starter questionnaires have been distributed to families whose children have recently started Buddies. We want to check that our induction procedures are the best they can be for our children and families.
- Staff have attended various training including food hygiene, In the Moment planning, Noticing Schemas in Play, Reflective Practice in Early Years, Fire Warden, Cultural Capital, Supporting children with SEND in Early Years. As well as Providers and Ofsted changes briefings.
- We distributed the Invest Now for Children's Happiness leaflet to parents.
- Peer observations are taking place this month to allow the staff to help each other to review their current practice.
- Staff have reorganized our playroom to reflect our new focus on In the Moment planning. This allows for the children to move around more freely and promotes open ended play.
