Alchemy between the Sun & Moon

The sun is always full and shining bright to provide expansive, radiant golden light... exuding optimistic and positive energy.

The moon shares it's soft, silvery contracting light in phases to allow us to feel and know our inner thoughts.

When the moon reaches it fullness, the sun and moon are in direct opposition, creating alchemical effects that allow feelings and thoughts that are not in alignment with our True Self to be brought to the surface for release. Once we acknowledge these feelings and accompanying thoughts, we can embrace and release them through the process of 'Heartmonizing' for transformation.

We appreciate and treasure the gifts of the Sun and Moon which provide growth and expanded awareness through each transformational experience.

Joke of the Month

When I first got here...
Someone asked me...

“Is that the Sun or Moon?”

I SAID...

“How should I know...
I don't live around here!”

Message of the Month

ONE-TLC Board Meeting on Sept 1, 2014: by Jackie

Whenever and wherever you go... you are always there. YOU cannot escape you. Many try to escape themselves in various ways, through alcohol, through drugs, through excessive work or having to be constantly busy, even excessive meditation and exercises are ways that one tries to elude who they are.

It is going to take silence and a deep desire to really and truly know who ‘one’ is. It is going to take facing the fears that are ever present in the moment and releasing and/or overcoming them before one can even begin to know what jewels lie within.

There is so much opportunity that is being missed... so much LIFE that is not being lived because of holding on to past memories and emotions. Could you imagine being totally clear... a clear vessel... able to feel what life brings in... and then to let it go completely so that you may experience the next in grander awareness and fulfillment. Being clear and present is to release the old... the old memories... the old emotions 100% without reservation or looking back... knowing full well that you are in control of your body and mind... and that you choose what you want to feel and experience.
