Personal strategic planning is a disciplined thought process, which produces fundamental decisions and actions that shape and guide who you are, where you are going, what you do, and how, when and why you do it. All of this is done with a focus on the future.

3. Be Believability System

Consumers don't look at your offer they look at you first. Consumers more than ever are looking for the right person to build a long-term relationship that has a reputation of believability. They want credible industry leaders that will perform and follow through on their promises. Consumers want to know that you have integrity, knowledge, character and trust. The consumer must see you as the expert and an industry leader. It is imperative for your success to cultivate a reputation of believability and create a positive experience for the consumer. With these two factors in mind, once that consumer decides he/she will become a loyal customer.
