

TO PROTECT THE DEPENDENTS OF ENLISTED MEN

Concerted Effort Being Made to Insure and Indemnify Fighting Men

Washington, Aug. 2.—For the first time in the history of the United States a concerted effort on government initiative is now being made to provide adequate and scientific financial protection for the officers and enlisted men of the army and navy and for their dependents...

DON'T EDUCATE YOUR BOWELS TO RELY ON Powerful Purgatives

It's the worst thing you can do. In time your bowels come to depend so much on stimulation by salts, calomel, etc. that it is impossible to obtain a natural movement.

COLONIAL—"The Faws of the Bear." REGENT—"The World Apart." PAXTANG PARK—"Vaudeville."

William Desmond and Clara Williams, starred in a powerful drama of the Russian revolution, in "Faws of the Bear" at the Colonial at Paxtang Park to-day only. The story depicts the adventures of a young American traveler in Belgium at the outbreak of the war. He meets a Russian countess, who is to serve her guests mixed up in diplomatic affairs. The many thrilling complications resulting from this meeting forms the basis of an exciting story.

The "World Apart," shown at the Regent to-day, is a stirring western story with so slender an appeal as to be a rarity, but it is that—exceptional and vigorous as the wind in the western hills. Wallace Reid plays his part with his usual dash and attractiveness, while Myrtle Stedman is afforded some rare opportunity to show her talents.

Inasmuch as the bureau of war risk insurance of the Treasury Department is already insuring masters, officers and seamen of American merchantmen and also the hulls and cargoes, President Wilson asked Secretary McAdoo several weeks ago to investigate the question, and the Council of National Defense also took up the problem through the Committee on Labor of its Advisory Commission, headed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The plan is intended to take the place of the pension system so far as concerns men and women engaged in the present war. It is based upon the fundamental idea that the government should, as a matter of justice, protect its soldiers and sailors, and their dependent families, and should do this with due regard for conditions as they exist today.

The new system would be administered by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the Treasury Department, which is already writing war risk insurance on masters, officers and crews of American merchant vessels and on American hulls and cargoes. Dependents of soldiers and sailors in service would be provided for through allotments from their pay, supplemented by family allowances.

She feels it her duty to give of her best self to life. She knows and feels and senses all those things—but in working them out she has become a woman who has had to meet and slay opposition in and out of her ranks.

There is nothing in all the world which has to be handled more intelligently than liberty. For stupidly managed or cavalierly treated, or too lavishly exploited, it turns into license.

Oakland, Cal.—True to their announcement, Marny Watson and Rosa James, two Indian maidens both aged seventeen years, tiring of city ways after a week's experience here, have "hit" the blazed trail and their beloved teepees near Lovelock. The girls disappeared from the home of Mrs. J. E. Royce, at No. 166 Lake street, where they were employed as housework. Later she received word that the girls had passed through Hayward on their way to Livermore.

FREEDOM IS NO COLORED BUBBLE

Freedom is not a rainbow colored bubble which can be lightly blown from a pretty little clay pipe. It is a great, heavy ball which one learns to roll up hill and keep in place after it gets there.

There is nothing in all the world which has to be handled more intelligently than liberty. For stupidly managed or cavalierly treated, or too lavishly exploited, it turns into license.

INDUSTRIES FROM PARK ZONE WIDELY SCATTERED

By J. HOWARD WERT. THE HARRISBURG ROLL GRINDING and Corrugating Company, once located in a portion of the old Jennings Foundry, South and Short streets, is now at 520-522 South Cameron street.

The Harrisburg Roll Grinding and Corrugating Company, once located in a portion of the old Jennings Foundry, South and Short streets, is now at 520-522 South Cameron street.

The Harrisburg Light and Power Company, which long had its office at North Third street, near the Pennsylvania Railroad, is now advantageously located at Walnut and Cameron streets.

One of the best-known grocery and food stores in Harrisburg, for more than half a century, was the one founded in Civil War days by Calvin Etter and James Shanklin. For forty-four consecutive years it was in business at State and Cowden streets.

The large brick building, 138 Short street, and extending far back on South street, once the Jennings Foundry, has now become an industrial park. The past quarter of a century, some of which, like the City Star Laundry, already noticed, have expanded into large proportions.

There was but one public school building in the area covered by the enlargement of the Capitol Park, the Day building on North street, erected in 1878. This school structure was an emphatic monument to the Rev. Prof. William Howard Day, D. D., one of the greatest and brainiest men of the colored race who ever resided in Harrisburg.

From this North street building came the first colored pupils to be admitted to the Boys' High School of Harrisburg, of which the writer of this paper was then the principal. Here again Prof. Day's persistency and shrewdness won the victory, for, incredible as it may seem at this period, there was in the school board of that day a well-defined scheme to sidetrack the admission of any colored pupils to the city's high schools. The names of the first admissions were the late Rev. William H. Marshall and Prof. John P. Scott, who had been in Harrisburg for many years.

Although not quite germane to the general title of this series, there are several private buildings soon to be leveled that seem to demand a brief passing notice. One is the handsome residence erected many years ago at North and Fourth streets by James Russ. For several years it has been occupied by the Keely Institute.

Since its acquisition by the State Division of Forestry, the Division of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board of the Division of Agriculture.

Quite a prominent industry of the Eighth ward during many years past has been the printing and binding plant conducted by J. H. Kurzenknebe in the large brick building at Short and South streets, already mentioned. He, too, has at length secured a suitable location for the continuation of his business. The bakery of George W. Orth, for many years a feature of State street near Fourth. A little like a capitol park extension, it clustered many historic situations, and he is still in business, as far as ever, in an uptown location.

Moorehead Knitting Company. Few has been traced with more brevity the present Eighth ward, the razing of buildings has leveled so that we are sorry to think we see no more—some around which clustered many historic situations, and he is still in business, as far as ever, in an uptown location.

His Undying Love Spoiled Movie Film. Los Angeles, Cal.—Declaring his undying love for an actress for a local film company, Herbert Hyman, twenty-six years old, was arrested for spying a film at the company's studio intruding his person before the camera in an attempt to get near the girl.

SKIN ERUPTION QUICKLY HEALED. Rash Had Broken Out On Face Arms and Shoulders, Says A. Curcio. "MUCH OBLIGED," HE SAYS.
