Best wishes to both couples as they begin their life together.

Emily Campbell, daughter of Eric & Sheila Campbell, graduated from Northmont High School and will be attending BGSU in the fall majoring in Secondary Education.

To the Franklin Monroe In-Flight program and the crew who volunteered their time and service to help us clean up our Church.

The mission of the Franklin Monroe School is to provide an educational environment, which assures that all students become productive, life-long learners and citizens with integrity. The In-Flight Program is a great way to accomplish this task by giving back to the community that continues to show an overwhelming amount of support to our students and school.

The students that served at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church cleaned the kitchen, washed the tables and chairs in the basement, cleaned the wood paneling, mopped the basement floor, washed windows, planted the flowers, pulled weeds, raked under the shrubs, bagged the trash and vacuumed the entry area. They accomplished so much in such a little time and did far more than we could ever hope to hope to accomplish. They truly provided community service for Trinity.

By the way If you are at the church and can take time to water the flowers in front of the sign, it will be much appreciated. They don't need heavily watered, but might need more than we can get over there to do.

JUNE

Sunday School has been resumed!!! But helpers are needed to teach a short 15-20 minute lesson during the gospel reading and sermon! I can help you with this if you want.

HEY ALL, we are looking forward to HAY DAY Bible school. Bible school will be 2 days as last year. The dates are Tuesday, August 2 and Thursday, August 4 at 6:00 - 8:15PM. Our theme is Hay Day - Growing in Friendship with Jesus. In today's environment, we need to teach kids to be friends with Jesus and each other! The program for the congregation will be Sunday, August 7. More information will be coming soon. Please sign up to be a helper. We need to get back to our core values of Love God (Jesus) and love people.

The annual church picnic will be July 24 with the church service outside at Trinity. Hot dog, hamburgers, drinks, and ice cream will be provided. See sign up sheet. We need kids willing to participate in service. Let me know.

Some kids are participating in performing special music during the in person Sunday church service. If your kids are willing to sing, play an instrument, etc. let me know.

JUNE 2022

Dear Sisters in Christ,

There was no formal meeting in the Month of May. We did have a Tea themed Mother/daughter/Friend gathering on May 15th in the afternoon. Decorations were elegant, food was plentiful. Bingo was fast paced with lots of laughter, and everyone was smiling for the cameras at the selfie station. Big thank you to Marge Warner for getting this all organized.

Our WELCA officers for the 2022-2023 will remain the same according to the list that was passed out at our April meeting.

The next WELCA meeting will be on June 1st at 1830. Since we did not have a formal meeting in May there are a few items that need to be discussed.

The big news is starting in September our meetings will be in the afternoon, this will allow ladies who can not drive after dark the opportunity to attend. Most likely we will not meet in July or August.

Our service project for April through June is Soap Project.

Each woman at Trinity is welcome to attend the monthly meetings and share in a time of fellowship, nourishment, and spiritual growth.

A big “thank you” to the Thompsons and Kosslers for providing gift cards to the youth celebrating their birthdays in April, May and June. I place them in their birthday cards so they can enjoy what every kid likes — a fast food treat!

Contact Judy Ulrich at 937-417-5590 if you have questions or would like to participate in the Wernle ministry.

NEWS FROM WERNLE:

“Sunny” (not her real name), a 13 year old girl, came to Wernle in the summer of 2021 and had difficulty participating in school. She would rush through her assignments so she could spend her time off task, thinking about other things, or doodling. With consistent support and encouragement from teachers and staff, she began to turn things around. The last few months Sunny has grown academically and socially and really enjoys decorating the unit for each holiday. Here are a some of her “doodlings”.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, many people—adults and children—have suffered isolation, fear, anxiety, and uncertainties. Wernle is here to help answer the call and provide solutions for youth and families during these difficult times. Thankfully, with your help, we have recently completed renovations on our oldest residential building. A new atrium to the front, an all-season space with natural light for therapy sessions. We completely refreshed the interior of the building providing remodeled bathrooms, and new lighting throughout. We removed walls so that the space has a more open floor plan, and remodeled office spaces. Finally, we expanded the day room adding new seating, television, and interior play space. All of these renovations also allowed us to add additional beds to the unit so that more youth can be served.

We have plans to renovate 2 additional residential units on our campus. Our prayer is that you will continue to be a part of our expansion. You may send a donation or contact us to discuss involvement opportunities. Together, we will continue to stand in the gap for young people and their families.

he has risen.”

I Sign at the Garden Tomb, Jerusalem, Israel

Trinity Faithful, grace and peace to you from God our Father and from the Risen Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

As I write this article for the June Newsletter I wish I were thinking about how hot it is and how summer has already arrived. Instead, I think many if not most of us are still looking for that wonderful spring I was hoping for all the way back in March. Instead, through March and April, we were still having measurable snowfalls. Even this first half of May is quite chilly compared to other years. Those of you who know me, know that I'm not really all that patient. God is constantly challenging me to help me improve in that area...

Most of our family got to go on family vacation the first week of May and we had a wonderful time. We got to relax on a giant cruise ship, the Carnival Vista. What a luxury liner! They had multiple buffet lines open from early morning until evening. 24 hour ice cream stations and pizza shops. There was a spa where you could get warm rock massages and deep muscle massages. I counted at least 7 hot tubs and 3 pools. They even had two giant water slides like at The Beach or Kings Island... We even got to watch The Secret of Dumbledore on an IMAX Screen... All onboard the ship! There was so much to do with all the shows and shore excursions, the week flew by faster than Superman's speeding bullet... I'm happy to be home and love the memories we made.

Even though the cruise was incredibly awesome, there were a few things that made me realize we were not in paradise. To start out the ship was late getting to the port of Galveston where we were to board. Instead of each family or group having an assigned time to board, they had all 4000 passengers show up at the same time. I haven't seen such a messed up process since I was in charge of Mobility Processing in the Air Force. The ship's propellers were evidently damaged. They didn't get repairs and we set sail for our first port of call, Jamaica. We were also late arriving in Jamaica and so they shortened our port call by 2 hours. They realized we were going to be late at the other two ports, so they shortened our stay in each port. Despite attempting to make up the time, we were over three hours late getting back to Galveston.

I'm not complaining. I'm relating this story because even the best of times, here on earth has it's flaws. This year, even the spring season wasn't my ideal of what spring should be. I don't know about you, but I wish this world could be a little more like heaven. I mean bad weather and late arrivals aside, this side of eternity has some serious defects. If God created us to be born into, and live our lives, in family groups, then why is it so hard to get along with one another. How did our humanity fall so far that courts must determine where children must live? Where people protest leaked court decisions, and where the government can't keep up with the number and severity of the crisis's we face as ordinary people... Why does God allow sin and death to, not just show up once in a while, but to seemingly dominate our lives?

I wish I had some good answers to these and so many other questions. For now, I tell myself God is testing me to see if I have any faith at all. In my prayers I ask for wisdom to begin to sow the seeds of faith and love around me, but I still get so upset when I see the effects Sin in the world. On an individual level it leads to severed relationships and on the national level we see how it can end in wars.

Maybe I can't do much to fix everything that's broken in this world but I think together we can make a difference. May the thoughts in our minds, the words that come out of our mouths, and the actions we take every day, always be guided by the knowledge that Jesus is our Lord and Savior. In trying to imitate Jesus, maybe we can have a profound effect on our environment. May we practice what we pray when we pray for God's will to be done on earth as it is in heaven. And may God give us peace in the eye of our storms. Amen.

Let's
Pray!

Time to Declutter Your Garage

I don't know about your garage but each Spring our garage is full of debris, dust, dead bugs, and live bugs. As the weather warms up and before it is too hot to work in the garage- now is the time to get it organized.

First decision is what is the purpose of your garage? Do you want to park your car or cars in it, do you use it as a work space, is it a play area, or do you just use your garage for storage? Are there items in the garage that should be stored someplace else- I've been told that the garage is not an optimum area to store paint.

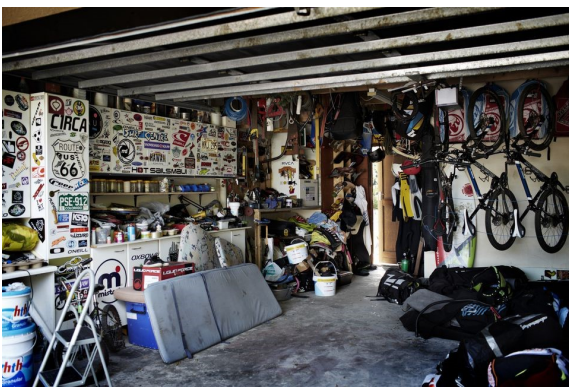

The best way I like to do things is to break them down into small tasks. Divide your garage into four sections. Pull out every single item in one section and sweep out the area. Before returning each item decide if it is needed, and how often is it needed. Sort like items with like items so you can see how many you have of each item so you can make informed decluttering decisions. If you have not used an item in a year or more, do you really need the item? My favorite items are those things that I do not know what it is or what it broke off from. If you don't know what it is or what it goes to, it's time to let it go!

Chemicals that are more than 1-2 years old need to be disposed of properly. They lose their effectiveness when stored outside. Did you know that containers can be compromised which can lead to leaks and spills? Research your counties hazardous waste disposal guidelines and requirements before placing certain chemicals in the trash bin.

If it's broken, rusted, or outgrown its usefulness, it needs to go.
Be ruthless in decluttering. Yes, be ruthless.

Together we live into the mission of sharing God's grace.
