As trans folks we are often targeted by law enforcement and negatively impacted by the criminal justice system. Many people behind bars have a lot of time on their hands while incarcerated without any outlets but are very gifted with various talents and skills. That's why we want to uplift those behind bars and let you know you are not alone, we are with you and we aren't free until we are all free. One of Trans(forming) members is the artist of this resource guide cover. Trans(forming) and La Gender supports those in any way we can and let those who wish express the struggles of everyday life inside for a trans individual inside or just showing off their talents.

As black-trans led organizations Trans(forming) and La Gender understands and want to address the current social climate and unrest in the world. Our community members have been historically and disproportionately impacted by criminalization & incarceration, violence, and the intersecting systems of oppression that are deeply embedded systematically. This past year we have seen and been a part of the uprising and fight for social justice that we think are basic human rights. We want to honor and remember those who might otherwise be forgotten, for those we are aware of that we lost and for those we don't know about that we lost to violence, indecency, and lack of regard for human lives. We express love and respect for our people in the face of national indifference and hatred. All of those individuals that were taken away before their time were sons, daughters, parents, friends and lovers. We stand in solidarity with ending the violence against marginalized communities and ending systemic oppressions.

In 2001, Dee Dee Chamblee, a black woman, trans activist and organizer surviving with HIV for over thirty years founded LaGender Inc., to amplify the voices of black trans women who were experiencing high rates of HIV/AIDS in Atlanta. At that time, they were reluctant to access HIV prevention and treatment services due to experiencing discrimination by health care providers and feeling an erasure of their trans identities by local LGB organizations and other AIDS service organizations. In an effort to combat stereotypes, misconceptions, and misinformation, LaGender developed an ongoing training program specifically geared to educate and inform AIDS service organizations, academic institutions, and public health providers on trans issues locally, nationally, and internationally. LaGender Inc. - collaborated with GA STATE UNIVERSITY on a statewide needs assessment for the Trans community and was awarded Phoenix award by the city of Atlanta in 2018. And its director received an award as a "Champion of Change " by President Obama. Also LaGender Inc. was inducted into the National Center for Civil and Human Rights Museum.

Trans(forming) was founded in 2007 by BT. Trans(forming) is an inter-generational metro Atlanta membership-based organization led by and for trans, intersex, and gender non-confirming people of color, wrongly assigned female at birth. Through advocacy, education, leadership development, coalition-building, peer support, and direct services, we work to ensure our communities live with dignity, wellness, and connection for liberation, we address basic needs and build a sense of community among our members, while also mobilizing to transform intuitions and systems that oppress us.

In recent years, we have expanded our political, racial justice-oriented organizing work through coalition building. Joining with other groups to defeat a city ordinance that sought to “banish” sex workers from parts of Atlanta, published a groundbreaking report on police abuse against local trans and gender non-conforming people of color, and won the creation of a city-run Policing Alternative & Diversion program. PAD encourages officers to refer people to social services when they are doing something arrestable because they are poor, have a mental health, or substance use issue. We also joined Close The Jail Atl Alliance to close and repurpose the Atlanta City Detention Center into a resource heaven for disenfranchised communities.

La Gender, Inc. was founded in the year 2000 by Mrs. Dee Dee Ngozi Chamblee Executive Director/CEO. LaGender was created to empower the Trans-community on issues such as HIV/AIDS, wrongful incarceration, homelessness, mental health, leadership development, research, emergency housing assistance, and peer counseling. LaGender, Inc., is a *black and trans women of color led organization dedicated to empowering the trans community on the unique issues of HIV/AIDS, homelessness, wrongful incarceration, mental health and societal discrimination.
