Since I became a pastor, it has been a big surprise to me to see that many Christians misunderstand the church to be a voluntary organization or company that exists primarily for reasons that relate to efficiency. However, that is not the true nature of the church, because the church is more than a building or meeting place. Rather, the church is a community called together by the Spirit of the Risen Christ. The church is not something we choose to do or choose not to do, but something to which we are called. In fact, we are called as a body of interdependent parts, not as separable individuals. The Risen Christ, who is present at all times and in all places, seeks to bind all things that have been wrongly separated together by the action and power of the Holy Spirit. Therefore, our participation is not something we do on the basis of perceived personal choice or need, so our participation in the body of Christ is inherent in being Christian.

As the body of Christ, we seek and reach out to care for one another. We celebrate the sacraments as a means of grace. We proclaim the good news of Jesus Christ in whom we can find the way, truth and life. We welcome and embrace all people because of God's love and grace. We make disciples of Jesus Christ and send them into the world for the work of justice and peace for the fulfillment of the kingdom of God on earth as it is in heaven.

I am very thankful for and proud of those who chose to say a big "Yes" to God's calling in 2019 in order to serve God, His church and His people, so please see the "2019 Staff and Lay Leadership" on the next page to see who they are. However, we must know that God is always seeking those who are willing and eager to choose to respond to God's calling, because "the harvest is plentiful but the workers are few." As one body of Christ, let us come, worship, serve and love together to be a community to which we are called by the Spirit of the Risen Christ.

*You are the body of Christ!
Each one of you is a part of it.*

Wisconsin General Conference Delegates Share Thoughts

As Wisconsin delegates to the Special Session of General Conference prepare for the upcoming meeting in St. Louis, February 23-26, we want to highlight their thoughts and insights. This week, Rev. Dan Dick and Barbara Dick weigh in.

Dan Dick, Clergy Delegate

I would be lying if I said I was not anxious about the upcoming special session of General Conference. But my anxiety also reflects the beauty of what I believe is the heart and soul of United Methodism – a group of very diverse, theologically different, church-loving people will gather together to express their heartfelt beliefs and understandings to work together to be the body of Christ on earth. We are not perfect, though God is working to perfect us in love. We are not united, though unity of purpose is God's will for us. We are not one, though through our baptism God works a unifying and reconciling miracle within us. We are not the church we ought to be, though we seek to be faithful in what we say and do. Beyond all else, I believe God will be with us, and the Holy Spirit will work within us. As a member of our Wisconsin Conference delegation, I am deeply proud and honored to serve with a group of women and men, laity and clergy, whose highest guiding value is to be faithful to God and to seek to do what is best for our United Methodist faith communion. We believe we are stronger together than apart, and that God has great plans for us as we live together into God's future.

Barbara Dick, Laity Delegate

At its best, The United Methodist Church embraces all people who seek to know and love God, to be the body of Christ in the world. The quadrilateral may not be exactly Wesleyan, but it has been a guidepost for my developing discipleship. I stand on Scripture as the foundational story of our faith in God's world. I look to tradition to provide a solid framework of historical understanding and lessons learned about the inevitability of change. I strive to use reason to build walls of faith that have both structural integrity and beauty. And, I keep the windows of experience open to God's ongoing work of creation, so that the story, the framework, and the walls will always have room to grow in love.

Whatever happens in St. Louis, God is not done with us. Even as I struggle with the power-plays and political maneuvering that surround General Conference, I prepare with prayerful discernment and study. I pray that the hearts of all delegates will be open to the true power—the power of the Holy Spirit—to do something astounding and wonderful through us. We have an opportunity to provide a witness to grace, to model peace, to overflow with the abundance that is God's love for all.

Pray for us. Pray with us. "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; and in all things, charity" (§1103.§2, Book of Discipline).
