

Radiant Chapter No. 11
Has Microwavable Heating Pads For Sale
(Just in time for cooler weather and Christmas gifting)

These pads are great for stiff or sore muscles. Use them for foot warmers in bed on those cold winter nights or pin one inside a jacket when going out to work or play in the snow. Unlike electric heating pads, these do not require a nearby plug and you don't need to worry about falling asleep when using them because the heat slowly dissipates.

They come in flannel prints and solids and have machine washable covers. Each 10" x 21" pad is corn filled so it can be heated over and over again without developing an odor. Just 2-3 minutes in the microwave and relief or comfort is on the way.

Let us help you with your Christmas shopping! Because these are so versatile, they make great gifts for those hard to buy for people.
