General Company of Industry (CGI)

An individual commitment in a collective effort!

- CGI provides technical leadership and project development
- Safe and inclusive environments to create the trust, loyalty, integrity and above all the motivation necessary to achieve results
- Innovative technical assistance
- Design office (structure, piping, pressure vessels)

The well-being of the workforce is closely linked to the morale of the team and the organization. A lack of well-being will quickly increase costs and delay projects, or even prevent their success. At CGI we are interested in individual engagement in a collective effort. A large part of this commitment is communication in a safe and inclusive environment. Each individual is responsible for the collective environment of the team, from the CEO to the maintenance staff. CGI equips the industry with this in mind for the improvement of the industry and the success of its projects.
