REQUEST

I'd like to begin with the gratitude I feel for our leadership team. They have always been a joy to work with, but in the face of recent events, they have stepped in and worked tirelessly and beyond their job descriptions to keep things going in my stead. I'm grateful, also, to them and to you, dear community, for your patience while I dropped a few balls in the face of unexpected challenges. Bless you all.

I wish to take this opportunity to provide some clarity about our Sacred Covenant. A beloved community member asked for clarification in the comments of one of our Sunday services, and we thought others might also have the same question. Her inquiry was essentially why does the covenant speak of seeking "my" instead of "our" new minister. Thank you for your inquiry and interest (voiced or not). I'm delighted you are in the mix with us and thinking about the minister search and the covenant itself with love, attention and thoughtfulness.

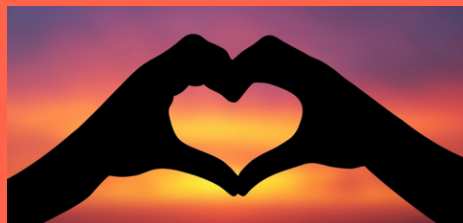

The Minister Search Committee met extensively in early 2020 and worked through thoughtful, Divinely-led Visioning to create the Sacred Covenant, which is essentially our prayer to connect with the Truth of the right minister for our community. This covenant was distributed to and approved by the community.

By writing and saying it in the first person, it brings us individually into the process of not only attracting the minister we desire, but to also be the community we wish to be - one based in Love, Compassion, Abundance and Prosperity, and Integrity.

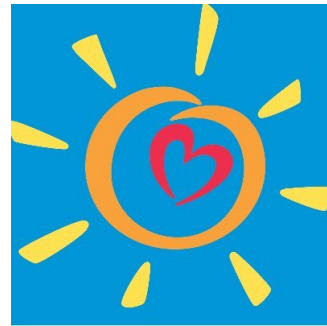

May your hearts be full of gratitude in this beautiful season of release and may your gatherings overflow with joy, connection, and delight.
