

CO-PARENTING QUESTIONNAIRE

Name: _____

Date: _____

Please check the description that best describes your current circumstances:

We may be getting divorced, but neither party has filed.

We have filed for divorce, but it is not yet finalized.

We are divorced.

If you are divorced or going through the process of divorce, please complete the following:

Date of marriage: _____

Date of separation (if any): _____

Date of divorce filing (if any): _____

Which parent filed for divorce: _____

Attorney name: _____

Date of divorce (if final): _____

Please complete the following for each of your children (use the back if you have more children):

Child 1:

Child's name: _____ Boy: Girl: Age: _____

Date of Birth: _____ School: _____ Grade: _____

Resides with: _____

Brief Description of how coping with current circumstances: _____

Child 2:

Child's name: _____ Boy: Girl: Age: _____

Date of Birth: _____ School: _____ Grade: _____

Resides with: _____

Brief Description of how coping with current circumstances: _____

Please complete the following questions the best that you can.

1. Describe how well you and your co-parent have been focused on your children and their need for parents to have a cooperative relationship. Are there changes you feel are needed to reduce any conflict between co-parents?

2. Describe how you and your co-parent communicate with each other about your children's lives and how you work together to make important decisions about your children.

3. What positive qualities can you identify in your co-parent?

4. What schedule to you and your co-parent use to share time with your children? (parenting time/visitation schedule)

5. Do you have any upcoming hearings or trials? If so, what are the main issues?

6. Do you have any safety concerns about attempting to build cooperation with your co-parent or about meeting with your co-parent?

7. Do you have concerns about your co-parent's ability to parent your children?

8. If you are married to, residing with, or involved with a new partner, give that person's name and indicate their relationship with your children.

9. If your co-parent is married to, residing with, or involved with a new partner, give that person's name and indicate their relationship with your children.

10. What issues remain for you and your co-parent to work through?

11. What are your main goals for your children through this process?

12. What are your main goals for co-parenting?

13. Additional Information to Share:
