

SUPERIOR SAUNAS

Superior Saunas are run by Superior Spas, who are the leading hot tub distributors in the United Kingdom, as well as the leaders in new spa designs and features. With partners all over the United Kingdom and Europe, Superior Spas have become a household name in the Hot Tub and Spa industry, which is why they have also diverged into the Sauna market.

Superior Saunas is a family run business taking pride in their customer service and after-sales care.

With over 15 years' experience in the spa industry, Superior Saunas assure you that every sauna they deliver is of the highest standard. Superior Saunas take great pride in the quality of their saunas: including every single component of every single sauna. From the controls all the way down to the woodwork, Superior Saunas use the best materials around, as well as the latest technology in the industry to ensure the creation of cutting-edge products at customer-friendly prices.

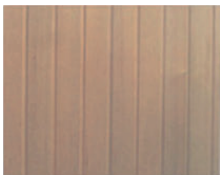

HIGH QUALITY MATERIAL

Our Hemlock timber is the best choice for your sauna - whether it'd be for your home or even commercial use. It is also very beneficial for all individuals suffering from allergies or persons with both mental and physical health problems.

Hemlock is known for its natural strength and durability; it is naturally resistant to decay therefore ideal for saunas. Its longevity is 300 -1000 years, whereas most other timber used for saunas only averages around 200 years.

Hemlock is commonly used for building bridges, homes, and large structures. The grain patterns creates a natural and a so it is prized as material for flooring, paneling and trim. Hemlock is strong, safe and has a very attractive evenly grained wood texture. Also, our Hemlock is not too hot to touch even in hot temperatures as it is sourced naturally.

LOW EMF TECHNOLOGY

What are EMFs (Electro Magnetic Fields)?

Electro Magnetic Fields are energy waves with frequencies below 300Hz. The EMFs we encounter daily come from the very things we use in our homes, such as TVs and Computer monitors, microwave ovens, cell phones, electric blankets, wiring in your home, and many other common electric devices.

Can EMF be Harmful?

Numerous studies have produced contradictory results, yet some experts are convinced that the threat is indeed real.

Dr David Carpenter (Dean at the School of Public Health, State University of New York) believes that there is a link between childhood cancers and exposure to high amounts of EMF.
