

Embrace all Seasons

with gratitude and trust in God

The long harsh days of winter always come to an end, with the promise of Spring's splendor on the horizon.

All life's seasons of adversity and blessings also have a purpose and time with God at the helm.

Whatever the season, He provides even for the birds of the air, and He will provide even more for all the needs of his valued children.

Trust Him in all your circumstances, and he will reward your faithfulness beyond anything you can imagine.
