Dear Susan,

When I was a young boy I was separated from my brother when our mother died. I would like to know if I will ever get to meet him again. Everyday I think of him and wonder where he is. A large part of me always feels empty.

Lost Brother

Dear Lost Brother,

Guidance tells me you will see your brother, due to his current wife's efforts. You will find that he has been living in the country. He is experiencing a loss and pain just like you and his wife knows that the loss can be filled by finding you. When you meet, your brother will be ill in health, however, will recover and you will stay in close contact. I am given that this will happen within the next 18 months so please be patient.

Dear Susan,

I had a car accident in July last year. Since that accident, I have been having out of body experiences. They are not scary, but I have no control over them and am not quite sure what is going on with me. Sometimes I feel I'm going mad. I have always been very intuitive, however now I'm having dreams and visions that come true. Please help me to understand what is going on and how can I control what is happening to me.

Sara

Dear Sara,

You certainly have been going through a lot on your own. I can feel your confusion and fear, however, now that you have reached out you will find there is help and understanding on its way. Firstly, when you had this accident your astral body was jolted and hasn't gone completely back into your complete energy field. I'm also being told that you have always been psychic however as a child it was scary so you shut it down and what is happening now is a quickening, an opening of all that should have already been open at a very fast rate. I know it is difficult to comprehend, however, it won't take long before you have a good understanding of your abilities and how to use them accurately. You need to go and see a crystal healer or spiritual healer to get your astral body in place. Ask your guardian angel to direct you to the right person. Within two days you will have direction through a friend or and artical. Once you have done this, the astral travelling will cease. Don't worry you will have control over it. As for your visions and dreams - they are there to show you what you can do and how you can help people by seeing for them what they can't. Go into a good alternative bookshop and find yourself a book on protection. Learn the techniques. Once you do you will find that you will be able to control the visions. It's like this - when you open your energy field up you can see far beyond the physical into the future or past, which exists on other dimensions. When you close yourself down, you remain in the dimensions you exist within. You will of course still have the dreams however, will learn how to interpret them by keeping a journal and developing your own understanding of them. Please let your strong intuition guide you at all times. Just because something is written in a book it means that it is truth for the writer, however, it may not be right for you. Guidance says please be aware of how you feel when reading and take out what feels right for you. The same goes with people. I'm assured that peace will be with you soon.

Dear Susan,

I really like this guy at my work and want to know will we be together. I see him and I can hardly talk. My emotions are so strong.

In Love

Dear In Love,

I'm sorry to bring you back to reality however this man is already involved. Guidance tells me there will be someone for you soon outside of your work environment; he will be just right for you and you won't feel nervous. You do need to understand why you react emotionally towards this man. Perhaps you could look a little closer into his manner and find it is very similar to your fathers and that reduces you to a little girl when he's around and the strong emotions are mixed feelings of not quite knowing your relationship to your father. Anyway you will see now.
