To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to take the opportunity to draft this letter of recommendation for Jazzmine Nolan MPA of Marie Management LLC. While I am more than happy to draft this letter on her behalf, her professional reputation wholeheartedly speaks for itself.

I began working with Jazzmine in the Fall of 2019 following my transition to full-time consulting following 10 years in nonprofit PR, Marketing and Communications. Shifting my mindset from that of an employee, she worked with me early on to establish practices and strategies that helped me to understand and guide my business goals and projections. Armed with knowledge and expertise gained from her own years of professional experience, Jazzmine has helped me understand systems and automations to aid in the execution of my daily work tasks. And, her eye for detail has helped me implement necessary personal and professional changes that have made myself and my firm more efficient and profitable.

In many aspects, I owe a large part of my success to Jazzmine.

Affectioned dubbed "Coach," I have recommended Jazzmine and Marie Management to several of my professional peers looking to strengthen the positioning of themselves and their businesses. She is dedicated to her clients and has spent hours of her personal time to help me work through various business situations, providing straightforward feedback, unapologetic recommendations and aggressive solutions.

A shining example of a one – woman agency, my choice to work with Jazzmine was based on the no-nonsense management style she has applied to own firm –which I have witnessed to be nothing but respectful, professional and profitable.

Without her help, I do not feel my first year as a consultant would have been as successful. I am confident that anyone that has worked with her, would speak just as highly of her as I do. If you require any more information, please feel free to contact me.

All the best,
