Te Tiriti o Waitangi – the Treaty of Waitangi – is a living document. Most workplaces, particularly Government organisations, have a responsibility and obligation to abide by the Treaty. I can assist you and your team to learn more about the Treaty of Waitangi, why it is important, and how you can implement the Treaty into your workplace practices while avoiding tokenism.

Through practical and interactive workshopping, I can help your team to make the Treaty a visible, working document in your organisation or school.
