SECTION 2: SPECIAL DANCES

WWW.BETTERBEATSDJ.COM

Some of the most memorable moments of your wedding reception will come from your special dances.

The First Dance is something very special and a moment you will remember forever, so choose it wisely. Some people really look forward to this moment, while others cringe at the thought of a room full of people gawking at them. If the both of you are good dancers, then you have nothing to worry about. But if you have more difficulty with dancing, you may need to sway back and forth to the song. Or, you may want to look into dance lessons. Either way, you should practice your First Dance before the wedding day.

Why? Because you may find out that the tempo of the song is much faster or much slower than you thought, making it very hard to dance to. Play it safe and listen to the song in your living room a few times to get a feel for the rhythm. To add a little fun, you may even want to plan certain moves, including perhaps a dip at the end.

Choreographed First Dance

A great idea if you want to wow your guests, especially if accomplished dancing is something they would have never expected from you. Just find a reputable dance studio and inquire about private lessons for weddings. To create even more of a wow, do not tell anybody you are doing this!

Fading Out or Guests Join

Some people suggest having the DJ fake out your First Dance song after a minute or two if you do not want to be out there alone for the whole song. This is not a good idea. The best thing to do is to have the DJ, after the first minute or two, invite the other guests to join you on the floor.

The Fake First Dance

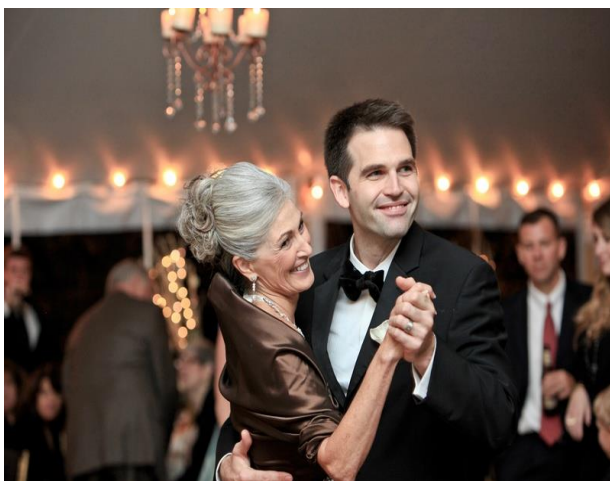

Start your First Dance with a traditional slow song, then break into a completely different song that is wild and crazy and fun. These moves may need to be choreographed, and you may need to get the help of a professional dance instructor. Keep any fancy dance numbers a surprise for the guests.

YOUR RECEPTION

Father Daughter Dance

Dad was the first man you ever loved and the first man to love you back. He's put up with the good, the bad and the ugly throughout the years, and in our eyes, that's certainly worth celebrating. Practice your moves with dad at least once before the wedding, and either the both of you, or dad himself, pick out the special song for this dance. Also, if the song is too long, let the DJ know if you would like to cut the song short.

Mother Son Dance

The mother-son dance is a tender moment in the midst of your big day to show gratitude for the person that made it all possible. Your mother is the one that stood by you and nurtured you through the years, safely delivering you to the love of your life and the next chapter of your journey. Let the spotlight shine on her unwavering love for a brief moment, honor that beautiful mother-son relationship. Again, if the song is too long, let the DJ know if you would like to cut the song short.

Anniversary / Generation Dance

The DJ invites the bride and groom and all the married couples onto the dance floor. Less than one minute into the song, the DJ says, "If you've been married for less than one day, please leave the dance floor." The DJ then begins to weed out other couples in increments of one year, five years, ten years, twenty years, and so on. Be sure you know all the married couples in the room beforehand and let the DJ know how long each couple has been married.
