

In today's gospel, Jesus says to his disciples:

*"Whoever loves me will keep my word,
and my Father will love him,
and we will come to him and make our dwelling with him."*

We're so used to those words we forget how beautiful they are. And it's Jesus at the Last Supper talking to his disciples.

And what does Jesus mean when he says: "Whosoever loves me keeps my word?" Keeps what word? The only command that Jesus ever gave his disciples is this: "Love one another as I have loved you."

Not love him or the Father, but "Love one another." Be generous and kind, loyal and true, but most of all forgiving of each other. This is all that God wants of you.

The true mark of a disciple of Jesus is his willingness to forgive.

Jesus says: "By this will all men know you are my disciples, because you love one another, loving with God's love, and God's love is for always a forgiving love, and God's love is a giving love, and what God gives, he never takes away."

I'm sure you'll all say, "Yes, fine words as we sit here in this church, safe, sound and comfortable. But as for the world outside, the wicked world is a different place, full of evil and guile, and great dangers, too. Best to be avoided at all costs."

Only one important thing to keep in mind when we say things like that and that is this: the world outside is God's world, and he tells us, "Do not be afraid, I have overcome the world that you fear. And together we shall change the world." In fact, it's changing before your very eyes, for Jesus is among us and is changing it.

Mass Readings for the 6th Sunday of Easter

First Reading – Acts 15:1-2, 22-29: "It is the decision of the Holy Spirit and of us not to place on you any burden beyond these necessities."

Responsorial Psalm – Psalm 67: "O God, let all the nations praise you!"

Second Reading – Revelation 21:10-14, 22-23: "I saw no temple in the city for its temple is the Lord God almighty and the Lamb. The city had no need of sun or moon to shine on it, for the glory of God gave it light, and its lamp was the Lamb."

Gospel – John 14:23-29: "The Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you."
