

CUPCAKES FOR CONSERVATION

Give your sweet a special treat this Valentine's Day!

The Redwood Coast Chapter of AAZK* is once again selling animal themed cupcakes for Valentine's Day. Don't miss out on this unique opportunity to show your loved one just how much you care about them... and the world in which we all live!

Your $10.00 gift package includes:

*Choice of chocolate or yellow Texas-sized cupcake

*Free delivery on Valentine's Day!

*An edible representation of your animal

*Personalized card with photo of chosen animal

Pangolin

Pangolins, also known as the spiny anteater, are heavily hunted in both Asia and Africa for food, for use in traditional medicines and as fashion accessories. Their populations are crashing as a result of the huge demand for their meat and scales. They are also threatened by habitat destruction and degradation resulting from human activities. Immediately halting illegal trade and broadening conservation efforts is critical to the survival of this remarkable group of mammals.

All proceeds from the purchase of this cupcake benefit the IUCN Pangolin Specialist Group. They serve as leaders in global pangolin conservation efforts and act as a catalyst for pangolin related research and conservation fundraising.

California Condor

California condors are a rare and distinctive species that play a big part in America's natural heritage and history. In 1982, only 22 individuals remained alive in the wild, but through extensive legislation, conservation and captive breeding programs, their numbers have increased. However, these magnificent birds still face threats that impede their survival and recovery including lead poisoning, ingestion of trash, and habitat loss, among others.

All proceeds from the purchase of this cupcake benefit the Ventana Wildlife Society, the only non-profit organization releasing and monitoring condors in California. Their goal is to establish a viable population of condors with 150 birds and at least 15 breeding pairs.
