

PSYCHOLOGY--THE RELIGION

Psychology is a religion. Webster's dictionary describes the word religion as follows: "a specific fundamental set of beliefs and practices generally agreed upon by a number of persons or sects".

Parapsychology (the branch of psychology that deals with psychic phenomena... telepathy), is always associated with psychology because it too involves the occult use of the soul. Parapsychology was started by Franz Anton in 1778.

The ascetic practices of the Buddhists, the breathing and abstract meditation of the Taoists, the meditation and thought concentration of the hypnotists, the silent sitting by those in various clubs with varieties of meditations, contemplations, concentrated thought to no thought at all, and hundreds of similar actions which people practice, follow the same common rule, however varied their knowledge and faith may be. They are tapping into the latent power of the soul. What all do is nothing more than bring man's external confused thought, wavy emotion, and weak will to a place of tranquility, with his flesh completely subdued, hence making possible the release of the soul's latent power. The reason this is not manifested in every person is because not all can break through the barriers of the flesh and bring all common psychic expressions to perfect calmness.

Secular psychology assumes we are human beings, but as "born again Believers", we are more than that. We are a "spiritual being" in a human body, therefore the theories of psychology and psychiatry cannot apply to us. True Believers are to be guided by Yahveh's Spirit only.

We don't need the philosophy and the psychology that comes from secular humanism. This belief system cannot feed or sustain us, because we are a form of spiritual being, "in this world," but not "of this world".

PSYCHIATRY--MEDICAL DOCTORS

HIPPOCRATIC OATH

The Hippocratic oath has been used for the swearing in of medical doctors and psychiatrists for hundreds of years. This oath contains blasphemy to Adonai our God. Any individual taking this oath may receive a curse. This is the main reason why the medical profession has become completely dominated by science, and has thrown God out from its values and practices. Without knowing, many in the medical profession have brought curses upon themselves, and their practices, allowing Satan to manipulate them.

The first sentence is as far as one has to delve into this oath to see how pagan it is. The first sentence of the oath reads as follows:

"I swear by Apollo the physician, by Aesculapius, Hygeia, and Panacea, and I take to witness all the gods, all the goddesses, to keep according to my ability and my judgment the following Oath":

THE STAFF OF AESCULAPIUS

The Caduceus is the wand of Hermes or Mercury, messenger of the gods. It is often used as a medical symbol even though the official symbol of the medical profession is the staff of Aesculapius (Asclepius).

The symbol of Aesculapius is a serpent entwined around a knotted staff. Tradition states that while Aesculapius was visiting the house of his patient, Claucus, a serpent coiled itself around his staff. Aesculapius killed it. Shortly thereafter, another serpent appeared with an herb leaf in its mouth and restored the dead serpent to life.

From this, it was deemed probable that disease was a poison. Serpents produced poison, but they also had a reputation for wisdom and for the power of renovation. It was then thought that a creature that could produce poison and disease, might also be capable of curing as well as killing.

Greek mythology tells us that Aesculapius was the son of Apollo and Coronis, a nymph. Apollo had Coronis killed while she was still pregnant with Aesculapius, because Coronis had been unfaithful to him. The infant was saved, however, and handed over to the centaur Chiron. Chiron had acquired knowledge of medicine from Apollo and was entrusted with rearing other such heroes, as, Jason, Hercules and Achilles.

Aesculapius learned well from Chiron and soon surpassed his mentor. One day while tending a patient, a snake coiled around his staff. Aesculapius killed the snake, but another one appeared with a leaf in its mouth and revived the dead serpent. Aesculapius kept the leaf, and with it was even more successful in healing people. This incident probably generated what we consider the true medical symbol –the Aesculapian staff with a single snake.

Aesculapius was so successful as a healer that he could even restore people from the dead. This deprived Hades of much needed subjects, so he prevailed upon Zeus to kill Aesculapius with a thunderbolt, which he did. Apollo avenged Aesculapius' death by shooting arrows at the workmen who made the thunderbolts, the Cyclopes.

Zeus then punished Apollo by making him work for one year as a servant to a mortal.

Aesculapius had six children. Two sons, Machion and Podaleirios, are mentioned in the Iliad as physician-warriors. His two daughters, Hygeia and Panacea, personified health and healing.

There is no doubt, then, that the staff of Aesculapius is the symbol associated with healing and the art of medicine. In 1910, the AMA (Alberta Medical Association), officially adopted the Staff of Aesculapius as its official insignia and it is the symbol used by MSMS. It is a symbol that represents pride.

Apollo and Hades also play a part in the development of the Caduceus. Hermes was the messenger of the gods, the god of commerce, the god of robbers, thieves and traitors, and also the god who conducted souls to Hades. Hermes was basically a subtle schemer. When he was only a few hours old, he escaped from his cradle to search for adventure. He invented the lyre, and when he was caught stealing oxen from Apollo, he used it to charm the father of Aesculapius. Apollo let him go, unpunished, and Hermes gave him his lyre. In return, Apollo gave Hermes a magic wand that bestowed wealth and prosperity, turning everything it touched into gold. The snakes were added when Hermes separated them from fighting. In appreciation, the snakes wrapped themselves around the staff. Wings were added as a symbol of Hermes' speed, and this is the origin of the Caduceus.

In other words, the Caduceus was just the wand of a conniving god of thieves who helped folks to Hades, and had nothing to do with medicine, let alone healing.

ORIGIN OF PSYCHOLOGY/PSYCHIATRY

Freud (Fraud)

Freud was unquestionably one of the originators of the religion of Psychology, he was well known as one of the MASTERS of this religion and thought to be the best of all the great masters of psychology.

Sigmund Freud was an atheist. He was a Jewish man who rejected his Judaism. He knew that everyone needed an emotional support system, and because he was an atheist, he helped create this humanistic artificial support system. Freud said religion would be discarded in the 20th. century. He said it was a "superstition" that would eventually be taken over by humanistic reasoning. Freud said "because it will be discarded we must create an emotional support system to replace what religion traditionally put powerfully into human consciousness and human personality". He wanted the supernatural beliefs that Believers traditionally held to be substituted with humanistic beliefs without the spiritual connection with Yah.

Freud was one of the worst enemies that Yahveh's children ever had.

Freud was a cocaine addict. Freud was convinced that the cocaine he was addicted to was the wonder drug of his day, and he in fact prescribed it for others.

Freud was convinced that under hypnosis, patients could "remember" early childhood incidents of which they had no conscious memory. He concluded that these hidden traumas, particularly those occurring prior to the age of six, were the driving force in determining one's present personality and reaction to circumstances.

Freud said that during dreams the most important part of "consciousness" was the "unconscious" side. (This statement doesn't even make sense).

Freud stated that, "religion is the obsessional neurosis of humanity".

Freud spent his entire life trying to create a religion of science. He created a monster, a religion of "science of the mind," and called it psychology. A religion that could be explained scientifically, not spiritually. He used words and phrases that most never understood, but pretended to know what he was using them. With these confusing words he found that those foolish enough to "just go along with it", would follow his teaching. He was completely against the God of the Bible, and spent his life trying hopelessly to debunk the supernatural realm of good and evil. The fools he got to follow him, now take comfort in worshipping at the altars of Jung, Rogers, and a host of similar authorities lead by demon spirits, rather than the altars of Messiah. His teaching attracted the faith of a generation incapable of any other.

He had an incredible fear of death, (a phobia as psychologists call it), and couldn't go to funerals, or anywhere near a dead body. He lived his entire life in total fear of anything or anyone even associated with death. This fear, among others, was because of the tremendous influence demons had on him. He was very demonically influenced, to the point of possession. Though Freud himself was discredited because he stated that he rejected occultism and spiritual experiences, he himself was into the occult without even knowing it. Freud was a nervous wreck, everywhere he went he was scared. He was a confused and incredibly restless man. He was a "basket-case", and this man was the so called leader and ultimate psychologist. He undoubtedly had a severe case of MPD (multiple personality disorder), also.

Carl Jung

Carl Jung was the second best known and respected of the great MASTERS of psychology. Carl Jung was a Swiss Satanist, he grew up in a home so demonically influenced that his mother kept a diary of the daily activities of demons in their house. He experienced his first psychic vision when he was three years old. His grandfather was a master Mason. Carl was a heavily demonized occultist. Jung was one of those who brought about the idea of inner healing, healing yourself from within, by yourself. He said the Holy Spirit came to him once in the form of a dog.

Carl Jung received credit for giving occultic techniques a scientific image. He, like Silva, Hill and Bach, had a Spirit guide. He had a Spirit guide named "Philemon" that taught him; the secrets of life were in your imagination. "Philemon lead Jung into discoveries that reinforced his major theories, including the "collective unconscious" and "archetypal images". Although Philemon didn't appear as Jung's Spirit guide until after Freud and Jung's break up, Jung had been deeply involved in occultism since his childhood, like his parents, grandparents and other relatives before him. In 1920 while visiting a friend's house, "he woke to see the head of an old woman lying next to him, the right eye, wide open glared at me. I leapt out of bed with one bound, lit a candle and spent the rest of the night in an armchair"

The home in which his mother was raised was so infested with "ghosts" and "evil spirits," that as a girl, she had to hold the spirits at bay long enough for her father (who was himself a medium as well as a Protestant minister) to write out his SUNDAY sermon. This man used to hold intimate conversations with his deceased first wife on a regular basis every week even with his second wife knowing what he was doing. His second wife also saw "spirits" on a regular basis. Jung said his mother was very loving during the day but at night she seemed uncanny, she would become archaic and ruthless, like a seer. After Jung's maternal grandfather's death, his alleged Spirit spoke through a cousin of Jung's in seances which Jung attended avidly during his student days in Basel. Jung's maternal grandmother once remained in a trance for three days, during which she described accurately person's unknown to her, but whose actual existence was later proved. With this background, it should not be surprising that Jung himself confessed "I too have an archaic nature". Carl Jung was deeply involved in occultic experiences all his life and he was the, "teacher of the teachers of psychology". Jung's psychic life was kept secret most of his life and his doctoral thesis of 1899 on "Psychology and Pathology of So-called Occult Phenomena," remained almost unknown. If this would have been divulged it would have created havoc with Jung's standing in the world of science, and this religion of psychology would have probably been dis-banded many years ago. To this day most psychologists don't know or won't accept the truth about their great leader and their "teacher of teachers".

Jung said that at the dream level, all minds were part of something called "the collective unconscious," and described it as the source of mystical powers. As a result, many now accept as scientific fact the religious belief that this vast unexplored region of "inner space" is a reservoir of magical powers which exceed even the wildest science fiction fantasy.

Jung covered up his occult involvement, he "demythologized" his continued spiritual experience no matter how real they seemed, by identifying them as "exteriorization" of suppressed wishes, fears, memories and archetypal images dredged up from the mythical "collective unconscious". By using difficult words, he rationalized the dread implications of the persistent visitations that continually haunted him throughout his life. Jung's works, called "Septem sermons ad Mortuos", or "Seven sermons to the dead," which weren't revealed to the public for over 40 years, (he later revealed), were given to him through spirits. Jung's revelations through his Spirit guide "philemon," gave him a "force" that was not of himself. Jung writes: "It was he who taught me psychic objectivity, the reality of the psyche. He was a mysterious figure to me. At times he seemed to me quite real, as if he were a living personality. I went walking up and down the garden with him, and to me he was what the Indians call a guru." Carl also had MPD.

Carl Jung gave respectability to spiritism by suggesting mediums were contacting deeper levels of their own psyches or the collective unconsciousness.

Carl Jung played a key role in laying the foundations of today's New Age movement. Carl used horoscopes in cases of difficult diagnosis.

Carl Rogers

Carl Rogers once studied to be a Protestant minister. He renounced the church and went on to become one of the most influential and highly respected psychologists of the post war era, and a leader in the rise of humanistic psychology. Near the end of his life he attended seances regularly. Once, with his wife Helen, his wife made contact with her dead sister's discarnate spirit. The voice speaking through the medium revealed intimate facts that could not have been known to the medium. Just prior to his wife's death, at her bedside in the hospital, Helen saw "evil figures" and the devil by her bed. She saw an inspiring white light which came and lifted her up from her bed and then deposited her back down. Rogers writes "These and other accounts cannot simply be dismissed with contempt or ridicule. The witnesses are too honest, their experiences too real. All these accounts indicate that a vast and mysterious universe, perhaps an inner reality, or perhaps a Spirit world of which we are all unknowingly a part, seems to exist"

Rogers, the father of "client centered" therapy, confessed that after Helen's death he was contacted by her spirit. He then used a ouija board to contact her again, and received the following message; "enjoy Carl, enjoy, be free, be free" This all came from a man who didn't believe in the biblical accounts of evil spirits and demons.

WHAT THE SCRIPTURES SAY ABOUT PSYCHOLOGY?

The best way to describe the religion of psychology and the other religions attached to it is to simply record what our instruction book says about it. The following verses may be describing psychology and psychiatry.

2Pet. 2:1 "But there were also false prophets in Israel, just as there will be false teachers among you. They will cleverly teach their destructive heresies about Yahveh and even turn against their master who bought them. Theirs will be a swift and terrible end. Many will follow their evil teaching and shameful immorality. And because of them, Messiah and His true way will be slandered. In their greed they will make up clever lies to get hold of your money"

2Pet. 1:3 "As we know Yeshua better, His divine power gives us everything we need for living a holy life"

Col. 2:8-10 "See to it that no one takes you captive through philosophy and empty deception, according to their elementary principles of the world, rather than according to Messiah. For in Him all the fullness of Deity dwells in bodily form and in Him you have been made complete"

Matt. 24:28 "Wherever the corpse is, there the vultures will gather." "Where the carcass is there will be the vultures", is a perfect reference to psychologists.

Rom. 8:6-8 "For the mind set on the flesh is death, but the mind set on the Spirit is life and peace, because the mind set on the flesh is hostile toward Yahveh; for it does not subject itself to the law of YHVH, for it is not even able {to do so} ; and those who are in the flesh cannot please YHVH."

1Cor. 2:10 "For to us YHVH revealed them through the spirit; for the spirit searches all things, even the depths of YHVH."

Luke 11:40 "You foolish ones, did not He who made the outside make the inside also? "

2Cor. 5:17 "Therefore if any man is in Messiah, he is a new creature; the old things passed away; behold new things have come"

Jer. 13:10 'This wicked people, who refuse to listen to My words, who walk in the stubbornness of their hearts and have gone after other gods to serve them and to bow down to them, let them be just like this waistband, which is totally worthless."

Jer. 16:12 'You too have done evil, {even} more than your forefathers; for behold, you are each one walking according to the stubbornness of his own evil heart, without listening to Me."

Today's soul doctors must seriously consider how Job describes his psychologist friends in Job 13:1-12 "Behold my eye has seen all this, my ear has heard and understood it. What you know I also know. I am not inferior to you. But I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to argue with YHVH. But you smear with lies; you are worthless physicians. O that you would be completely silent, and that it would become your wisdom! Please hear my argument, and listen to the contentions of my lips. Will you speak what is unjust for YHVH, and speak what is deceitful for Him? Will you show partiality for Him? Will you contend for YHVH? Will it be well when He examines you? Or will you deceive Him as one deceives a man? He will surely reprove you, if you secretly show partiality. Will not His majesty terrify you, and the dread of Him fall on you? Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes, Your defences are defences of clay." If you're a psychologist, I believe the "rhema" of this says; "Are you totally God centered, does YHVH'S Spirit guide all your thoughts and actions, or do you think soulish, worldly, proverbial thoughts? "How can you advise man if you are not lead by YHVH? You will have to answer to Ha Shem some day, think about your advice!

FALSE TEACHING

Freud taught that by the time you are six years old your personality is locked in for life, and you can not change.

Psychology has no value system whatsoever.

Psychology is an attempt to scientifically explain human behavior.

It is an attempt to explain the mind, a "science of the mind."

Psychology refers to the sub-conscious, there is nowhere in scripture that sub-conscious is referred to.

Psychology is not Yeshua centered, it teaches about the soul of oneself; I, I, I; rather than a true connection between Yahveh and mankind.

Believers in Adonai, and psychology cannot be joined in any way.

Many of today's psychotherapists use Astrological charts for guidance.

Para-psychologists are mostly interested in scientific research of the occult phenomena, with no attention given to the psychological symptoms which accompany them.

There are many churches of psychology today. One is called the Unitarian Church, a preppy, non-Biblical Church that denies the Tripart Yahveh and repudiates Messiah's virgin birth and atonement. Just one more example of a New Age Cult, called a church.

In the first place, the mind is not a physical thing so it can not be sick.

PROMISE KEEPERS

There is a world wide organization for Christian men, called Promise Keepers, Promise keepers was started in 1991 by a charismatic lead organization, members of John Wimbers Vineyard Fellowship. It's human success is attributed to individuals such as Bill Bright (Campus Crusade for Christ), and psychologists Gary Smalley, James Dobson, and John Trent, along with Chuck Swindoll. This organization even accepts Roman Catholics into their midst; which is the kind of thing Paul warned us about in 2Cor. 6:17. It appears, by the leaders and their writings, that PK has bought into much of the pop psychology in Christendom today. Psychologists like Smalley, Dobson, and Trent, are "humanistic psychologists" under the deception of mixed spirits. Psychology is a religion in its own. They are called Christian psychologists. There is "NO DIFFERENCE WHATSOEVER" between the teachings of any psychologists, whether they come from a pagan Christian or any other secular person. They have the same man-made principals and the same man-made solutions to problems. To explain further, I include a quote taken at a meeting of the (CAPS), which is a group of psychologists and councillors who are "professing" Believers found in the PK's Psycho Heresy book, page 36. "We are often asked if we are "Christian psychologists" and find it difficult to answer since we don't know what the question implies. We are Christians who are psychologists, but at the present time there is no acceptable Christian psychology that is markedly different from non Christian psychology. It is difficult to imply that we function in a manner that is fundamentally distinct from our non Christian colleagues; as yet there is not an acceptable theory, mode of research or treatment mythology that is distinctly Christian" This is just another example of proof that what the pagan Christians "Christian psychology" is exactly the same as other "secular" psychology. They are simply the same thing. Does a "wolf in sheep's clothing " sound appropriate here?

At a recent psychology convention delegates began their morning with Yoga, Fichie, and meditation of one's self. For a meeting of the Humanistic Psychology Association in San Diego, recently, their advertisement in a witchcraft and sorcerer magazine, read, "we will put you in touch with the God's themselves"

The professional group today that are receiving the most therapy in the world are those professionals called clinical psychologists, marriage, and family councillors.

The instructions for the well known and frequently used Rorschach ink blot tests state that if anyone sees some religious symbolism in one of the ink blots it is a sign of schizophrenia or sexual preoccupation. These ink blot tests are still being used today by millions of foolish soul doctors.

Psychiatrists have the highest number of suicides of any profession.

Psychotherapy and Darwinism will be known as the biggest hoaxes of the 20 th. century.

To the world of psychology Yahveh has become "the collective unconscious", and spirits have become "splits of the psyche".

The "higher consciousness these mislead people refer to is nothing more then higher possession stages of demonization.

Parapsychology is defined as "the attempt to apply scientific method and or critical investigation to phenomena which are paranormal; outside the normal paradigms of science and critical reasoning".

The key elements involved (which reveal the close link between Eastern mysticism, cults, such as Scientology or transcendental meditation, and the more respected and much larger cult of psychotherapy), are the twin theories of evolution and reincarnation. In fact, evolution has always been recognized as the vehicle that makes reincarnation seem credible. There is no point in being reincarnated back to earth countless times unless one is evolving higher. Although, if one has bad “karma”, (so they say), they drop lower on the scale of evolution.

Holistic medicine, is shamanism being practiced in our culture under new labels. Shamanism involves the development of alleged mind powers, which are always connected with a “Spirit guide,” contacted through an altered state of consciousness.

R.D. Lang, one of the masters of psychology, said himself that he cannot think of one thing that psychology has offered the human race in the area of interpersonal relationships that is of any benefit in its entire 100 years since Freud.

All psychological forces are governed by physiological forces. Satan’s objective is to liberate man’s soul power through the breakdown of his outer shell, so his soul power can be free and manifest.

“Psyche” in Greek means “soul” and “logia” means discourse. Hence this religion is the “science of the soul”. This religion deals with the part of us that gets us in trouble, the soul. Our soul and our body is where our sin takes place. The Bible says we are to be guided by our “spirit,” not our heart, or our soul. People should not trust their heart when it comes to things that look real and may seem wonderful. Test all things! Jer. 17:9 “The heart is more deceitful than all else and is desperately sick, who can understand it”? (1Ths. 5:21)

Most people who go to psychologists do so to get attention, to feel important. The psychologist in turn feels important. It’s all about “EGO”, being “self centered,” and getting attention, even if you have to pay $200.00 an hour.

CONCLUSION OF PSYCHOLOGY

Jgs. 2:11-14 “Then the sons of Israel did evil in the sight of Adonai, and served the Baals, and they forsook Adonai, the Yahveh of their fathers, who had brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods from {among} the gods of the peoples who were around them, and bowed themselves down to them; thus they provoked Adonai to anger. So they forsook Adonai and served Baal and the Ashtaroth. And the anger of Adonai burned against Israel, and He gave them into the hands of plunderers who plundered them; and He sold them into the hands of their enemies around {them,} so that they could no longer stand before their enemies.” Yahveh is also loving and kind and compassionate (Lam. 3:22-23). But Yahveh is, above all and through all, Holy! (IPet. 1:15). As His ambassadors in this wicked and perverse generation (Phil. 2:15), He has called us to Holiness, a reflection of His Holiness, as well (1Pet. 1:15). Because He is Yahveh, and because He is Holy, He had no choice but to “deliver them [His disobedient sons] into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies.”

“Yahveh is love” (I John 4:8). Love is keeping Adonai’s commandments and laws. John 14:21 “He who has My commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves Me; and he who loves Me shall be loved by My Father, and I will love him, and will disclose Myself to him.”

The Church of Yeshua is being plundered and sold into the hands of its enemies, because it has played the harlot with the god of psychology, whose unbiblical goal is to make people “feel good about themselves,” rather than to love Hashem with all their heart, soul, mind and strength (Deut. 6:5, Matt. 22:37), to glorify Him in all things, (1Cor. 10:31) and to be "conformed to the image of His Son" (Rom. 8:29).

Psychology is a very deceptive and dangerous theory conceived in the mind of unredeemed man in his state of rebellion against Yahveh, as the answer to his problems. Psychology has been the, "god of the people", since the late 1800's, when Freud systematized his atheistic assessments about the psyche (soul) of man. Psychological theories have replaced the clear teachings of Scripture. Christians stream to its practitioners for affirmation, comfort, and guidance, rather than to Yah, His Word, and the Body of Yeshua. Because psychology, like the god of Baal, sometimes helps people temporarily feel better about themselves, it is now revered and worshiped. Great energies, money, and time are invested in its service. But the Bible says, 2Cor. 6:14 "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers" Rather than coming out from the godless practice of psychology, we have embraced it, incorporated it into our beliefs, and twisted and distorted Scripture to "prove" psychological theories!

"I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. Where is the wiseman?", hath not YHVH made foolish the wisdom of this world?, YHVH is not the author of confusion. (1Cor. 1:19,20, 1Cor. 14:33)

There are currently over 500 conflicting and contradicting psychotherapies being taught and practiced today. That in itself shows the foolishness of the wisdom of the world (1Cor. 1:20).

"For all of us have become like one who is unclean, And all our righteous deeds are like a filthy garment;" --"Every one of them has turned aside; together they have become corrupt; There is no one who does good, not even one." --"The heart is more deceitful than all else And is desperately sick; Who can understand it?" (Is. 64:6; Ps. 53:3; Jer. 17:9).

Common to all psychological teaching is a Biblically defective view of the nature of man. Namely, that man is basically good and able to solve his problems (when properly "enlightened"). Nothing could be farther from the Truth! Deut. 7:4-6 "For they will turn your sons away from following Me to serve other gods; then the anger of Adonai will be kindled against you, and He will quickly destroy you. "But thus you shall do to them: you shall tear down their altars, and smash their {sacred} pillars, and hew down their Asherim, and burn their graven images with fire. "For you are a holy people to Adonai your YHVH; Adonai your YHVH has chosen you to be a people for His own possession out of all the peoples who are on the face of the earth." The gods that psychology have created—"self" obsession and worship, materialism, pain-free living, and a thousand other "feel good" fantasies—are as unholy and pagan as the Asherim of the Sidonians. YHVH says we should destroy these heathen idols and cling to Him alone, seeking Holiness and Messiah-likeness, not preoccupation with "self." We are to "flee Babylon" Rev. 18:4. We are to get out of the sewer before we smell like it and become contaminated, unclean.

Whenever we attempt to "mix" the Holy with the the unholy, such as "Psychology," we profane the precious Holy Name of Hashem (Ezek. 36:22), and we make a mockery of His sovereignty, authority and sufficiency. We imply that Yah is not capable of dealing with a certain class of problems—"psychological." History clearly illustrates that anytime the people of Yahveh attempted to mix the Holy with the profane, it was only a matter of time before they "forsook" the Holy, and were "consumed" by the unholy (2Chron. 28:22,23).

Surely, we would be wise to heed the call to purity and obedience. 1Cor. 10:6 "Now these things happened as examples for us, that we should not crave evil things, as they also craved." Yeshua Himself, warned against the danger and impossibility of serving two masters: Matt. 6:24 "No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will hold to one and despise the other. You cannot serve YHVH and mammon." It is not that we doubt for one moment the sincerity or intelligence of many Christian "experts," who unashamedly utilize psychological "techniques" today; many may be sincere, extremely intelligent, sincere people, but they are simply deceived. They are deceived in their religious beliefs, so they can be easily deceived in their beliefs of mental health. All of us are, at times, deceived by the schemes of Satan (2Cor 2:11), as he appeals to certain presuppositions based on personal experiences, "personality" (often sinful weaknesses), circumstantial appearances, and so forth. That is why the Bible exhorts (comforts) us, to forsake not the assembling of ourselves together (Hebr. 10:25); to teach, exhort, and admonish one another (Col 3:16; 2Tim. 3:16; 1Ths. 5:18); and to have a teachable spirit (James 3:13-18). That is the purpose of the Body of Yeshua. Yah calls preachers and teachers to speak forth the clear warnings of Scripture, warning us of waywardness (Ezek. 33:7-9). In obedience to Yah, many of these holy saints today are "crying out from the wilderness" concerning the dangers of psychology. But who is heeding the cry?

The first 5 books of the Bible are dedicated to establishing the foundation on which the rest of the Bible rests: "Hear, O Israel: Adonai our Yahveh is one Adonai". --"Thou shalt fear Adonai thy Yahveh, and serve him, and shalt swear by His name. Ye shall not go after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round about you". (Deut. 6:4,13-15; 7:6). Matt. 5:17-18 "Do not think that I came to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I did not come to abolish, but to fulfill. "For truly I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not the smallest letter or stroke shall pass away from the Law, until all is accomplished." Whether we recognize it or not, psychology always adds "enlightened theories" to Scripture. Satan is a master counterfeiter. Our fallen minds are bent towards deception. In the area of psychology, scriptural terms are carefully chosen. "Biblical models" are set up as altars upon which the heathen gods of humanism and reason are erected. There is no such thing as "Biblical Psychology." It is impossible to wed the Holy with the Unholy. Yet, respected "Christian Psychologists" have convinced wayward sheep that, not only is it possible to "integrate" psychology and the Bible, but it is desirable and superior. God, forbid!

To "prove" the "goodness" of this marriage, psychologists are quick to relate "experiences" of people who have been "helped" by their techniques. All outside indication would support their arguments, but is it not more deception? Yah is the only one who can heal. Since the devil is the perpetrator of sin, sickness and disease, (especially mental and emotional disturbances), he can quite strategically lift his heavy hand of destruction for a time to make it "appear" as if the psychological technique is actually bringing healing, when in reality, the "healing" is not healing at all, but only a temporary reprieve. Lacking a disciplined, seasoned discernment, the already weakened and unstable person is eventually lead down another path of deception and failure. A vicious cycle develops: Therapy, a reprieve, a new crises, more therapy, a reprieve, a new crises, more therapy, and so on. We are fully aware that in some instances people are genuinely "helped" during a period of time they are under the treatment of a "Christian Psychologist", but again, it is clear that the healing did not come from the "therapist" or the "psychological technique." In fact, they were helped, despite the doctors. The healing came from a compassionate touch of the GRACE of Yahveh, as these people received salvation or renewed their commitment to Messiah and to the study and application of His Word, "obedience".

At the heart of our concern in all this is, that the wrong "gods" are receiving the glory, "Christian Psychology," psychological techniques, the therapist, or the newly resurrected god of "self-esteem." The Bible clearly warns: Isa. 42:8 "I am Adonai: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another"

The vast array of "psychological problems" are, in reality, spiritual problems that have never been properly dealt with according to Yah's Word. When we try to wed Elohim's ways of dealing with the human problem of sin, the stake, forgiveness, personal responsibility, accountability, discipline (obedience), with man's ways, blaming others, "getting in touch with our past," self-pity/victimization, and relying upon "self", we are certainly playing the harlot (Josh. 23:8-13).

Sin and its devastating consequences, shame, guilt, feelings of worthlessness, cannot be solved by any other means than the redemptive blood of Yeshua, and the sanctifying work of the Holy Spirit of Yahveh. Putting a psychological band-aid on these spiritual problems, only covers an incurable wound (Jer. 30:12). It is true: "With men this [difficult problem] is impossible; but with YHVH all things are possible. Behold, Adonai's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither His ear heavy, that it cannot hear" (Matt. 19:26; Is. 59:1).

By implying that some problems are "too serious" to be dealt with through the proper application of Scripture, we not only deny the sovereignty and the power of Adonai, we begin to develop within people a dependence on themselves, psychology, a therapist, pastor, friends, or a "technique," instead of a dependence on Dad. That is why the Body of Yeshua is so weak. We are literally sucking the life blood of the Church of Yeshua out, in a sincere attempt to be "compassionate," apart from the power of the Ruach and the application of and obedience to the Word of Yah. It is tragic that many have been lead to believe that victory over various emotional problems can be obtained only through "professional psychology". This is not only untrue; it is a devastating witness to the already perceived impotence of the Church.

Did Yah leave His people "in the dark" for over 1800 years after Messiah returned to the Father, until Freud appeared on the scene in the late 1800's to shed his enlightenment upon the various problems of the human dilemma? Contrarily, history confirms that some of the most productive, fruitful saints lived during this very period, and people in general were much more "stable" before this new era of enlightenment, than today. In truth, countless numbers of individuals through the ages have experienced complete, perfect, and lasting victory over the most severe problems through application of Biblical principles, genuine love, and the power of Yah working through His Ruach HaKodesh (Holy Spirit) and the Body of Yeshua.

It is time we tore down the Asherim of Psychology and returned in pure and Holy allegiance to the One who said: (Isa. 1:16, 19, 20 KJV).

"Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of Adonai hath spoken it”

The need for psychology comes simply from the lack of making Hashem first in our lives, and following His precious Torah like He told us to. All need for man’s psychological god’s would cease if mankind got back to the moral, civil and principal laws and ordinances of the Bible, and truly followed Him. Psychology is a religion and has no place within the body of Messiah. It is the practice of using man’s wisdom for answers rather than the wisdom given by the Holy Spirit. Psychology is totally unscientific and has no hard scientific proof of what it teaches. It is the religion of self-help instead of the help of the Holy Spirit. Psychology is based on Atheism, Humanism, and Evolution, and not on the word of Yah, or the supernatural power of the Holy Spirit. It is a religion that pretends to be a science, a fake religion that seeks to destroy true religion. It takes everything of the Bible itself and either demeans it or eventually destroys it.

Many of these demon possessed psychologists of then and now, have managed to create a new “scientific” religion in place of traditional theologies and a new class of priests, called, “doctors”. This new religion that foolish people pay exorbitant amounts of money for, is explained without resorting to soul, spirit, God, Satan, angels, demons, sin, or guilt. People are taught they can create their own paradise by pointing to their own inner goodness and inner potential, a new Utopia of the soul.

There is not, and can not be any such thing as Biblical psychology. This is an oxymoron, putting these two words together is like saying Biblical prostitute, Biblical pornography, Biblical sin, Biblical gambling, Biblical heavy metal music, or Biblical stealing. It is simply not possible to have these two ideas together because they are opposing. A person may claim to be a Biblical psychologist as a person may in fact be a Christian plumber, or Christian truck driver, but there is no such thing as “Biblical Psychology”. If people of this world, (non-Believers) want to go and take advice from psychologists, that’s their problem, because they have no wisdom, but if Believers dare to go to psychologists for help, they are in direct disobedience with Yah. All Believers have the privilege of getting on their knees for everything they require in life, as the Good Book says.

Psychiatry is “the clever and clinical destruction of the spirituality of man and its replacement by a positivistic science of the mind”.

The New Agers have adopted all the psychological theories and vocabulary into their own religions to give people the impression they know what they are talking about. They gobble up the terms like “consciousness, unconsciousness, “inner this”, and “inner that”, and think that using these terms will make them sound more knowledgeable. Some of these intellectual giants are moral misfits guided by Satan himself. The following is an example of what many of these educated person’s spend their time meditating on. “If a tree falls in the forest, does anybody hear it, does it make a noise?” Who cares!

Perceived error is the fruit of stupidity, you can have a Ph.D. and be “stupid”. Knowledge is of no value whatsoever if you don’t have the wisdom of God to show you how to use it.

In today’s world everyone wants a quick fix, microwave fast magical formula, and their are thousands of experts who claim to have the ultimate technique to help them empty their pockets.

Great books are like a drop in the ocean. The Bible is the ocean.

These “nut-case” mind doctors of old, were the foundation of the human potential movement. Self improvement leaders assure us that by simply looking within ourselves we can discover all truth, all knowledge and all power. This opens the door to the Eastern mysticism’s “altered state of consciousness” through hypnosis, LSD, or whatever, that has become the “enlightened one”, or “I am god”, or new age movement.

Any time you hear a leader teaching about the following things, if they don’t specifically say that Yahveh is the Healer, you must beware and avoid this teaching, because it is an attack on the blood atonement of Yeshua Hamashiach: healing of the memories, fourth dimension, inner healing, self-esteem, biblical psychology, power of positive thinking, possibility thinking, (name it and claim it) the confession principle, (when people confess that they are healed and don’t check it out or look after the problem), visualization, dream your own dream, positive mental attitude, all truth is God’s truth, the kingdom principle, unity of the body, little god’s. All these terms attack the blood atonement.

Those who’s ancestors took comfort from the words of Yah and worshipped at the altars of Yeshua, now take solace from the worship at the altars of Freud, Jung, Rogers and a host of many others.

The techniques we see today, being used by professional psychologists and psychiatrists, are in fact, occultic techniques of the past, that are still being used as an integral part of many psychotherapies.

Rather than these psychologists, psychiatrists, physiotherapists etc. abandoning their ridiculous beliefs, they have now compounded their ignorance and misunderstanding by mixing in Eastern mysticism of one sort or another with their bankrupt beliefs. Now they talk about and try to call things, “altered state of consciousness,” and, “human potential,” which is the same magic the Gurus, Yogis, and Shaman’s of the East have used for ages. They hide it under the name of psychology, psychiatry, physiotherapy, etc., and charge $200-2000.00 an hour to administer this occultic religion. Years ago this profession was called “witchcraft,” as was done by “witch-doctors”. Now they give themselves a nice title and spend many years in school learning about the same things that can be accomplished with a simple ouija board. In many cases they even receive help from our government agencies to achieve their OCCULT degrees.

By turning the focus of sick people inward, the Freudian/Jungian obsession with the unconscious, these so-called doctors, have spawned a menagerie of “selfisms”; self-love, self-acceptance, self-worth, self-confidence, self-esteem, self-ad nauseam, etc.. Not many years ago self-centredness (was and should still be), considered a human failing. Today it is the center of most psychotherapies, the god of “self” is the one the people want to, and do worship. Look closely and you will see; the center part of “PRIDE”, is “I”! Humanity sees it as being the answer to man’s salvation. Buddha reportedly only recognized one miracle; the transformation of human consciousness, that transformation is the major goal of virtually all psychotherapies today. Arrogant, conceited people, will do anything to keep the glory away from the real YHVH, the God of Israel.

Matt. 6:33 “But seek first His kingdom and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added to you.” This statement clearly states all things come from Yahveh, not universities.

A test done by psychiatrist E Fuller Torrey a few years ago tested psychotherapists along with witch-doctors. The results were identical, no difference in the measured results except the witch-doctors charged less and released their patients sooner.

A famous christian author, “Dave Hunt,” exposed the religion of psychology a few years back with a book called “The Seduction Of Christianity”. He is by far the most outspoken person I know of that tells it the way it really is in regards to psychology.

The meditations of many people are simply a kind of psychic operation. This is not the situation in the case of Believers. Believers do not need to meditate on Yahveh, for we already have Yahveh in us. We are to meditate only on the living Word of Yahveh, so the “rhema” can take place. Regardless of what our feelings may be, we know Yahveh in our intuition; we have within us an intuitive guidance to the knowledge of Yahveh. In addition to this, we have the living Word of Yahveh. We don’t need to meditate for hours on our inner selves, like the New Agers do to create soul power, we need only to think and follow Yah to feel peaceful and whole, for we believe what the Word of Yah says. As Believers, we believe we have faith, and we can disregard feelings lead by the soul. We need only to ask Yah to help us discern between the divinely inspired revelations and the soul force, (journaling), revelations we receive. Here lies a basic difference between the Believers faith and the religion of psychology.

Today, so-called “experts” have taken over the reins of the church. Sin is seen in psychological terms and called a “disease”. A drug addict is said to have a “weakness”. Altars have been replaced with counselling rooms. Prophets of holiness have been replaced by psychologists and social workers spouting the latest man-centered jargon. In short, Yeshua is being dethroned and Freud is being exalted. Over the years the church has slowly but surely dethroned Yeshua and enthroned the wisdom of the world. Yeshua is no longer the source and power behind Yahveh’s people. Instead, we’ve turned to fleshly things that eventually will fade. And we’ve lost all the power we had when we trusted totally in Yeshua.

Whether one is involved in psychotherapy, witchcraft, channeling, or self-improvement techniques, the underlying philosophy is the same. This movement of selfism, like the entire New Age movement, embodies ancient occult ideas repackaged in pseudoscientific language for modern consumption. It is naturalism/polytheism, in opposition to supernaturalism/monotheism.

Just to show you that I’m not always serious, I feel it my obligation to share with you the following goodies:

Psychiatrists say that one in four people today have a serious emotional problem that affects their happiness; if you get in a group of four, and the other three seem normal, then it’s you!

“Welcome to the psychiatric hot-line”. If you are obsessive compulsive, press one repeatedly! If you are co-dependent ask someone of significance to press two! If you are a multiple personality, press 3,4, 5 and 6. If you are paranoid, we know who you are and what you want, just stay on the line and we’ll trace the call. If you are schizophrenic, listen carefully and a little voice will tell you which number to press. If you are manic depressive it doesn't matter which number you press nobody's going to answer. To register for our anger management class just rip the phone out of the wall now!
