Systems Integration Benefits

The following some of the several good reasons for integration:

- Reduce duplication between systems and therefore costs
- Reduce all type of risks and increase profitability
- Eliminate conflicting responsibilities across systems and relationships
- Turn the focus on achieving business goals and objectives
- Formalise undocumented systems
- Harmonise and optimise business processes
- Create consistency across the business
- Improve communication
- Facilitate training and encourage development