Language and Linguistics in Melanesia (formerly Kivung) is published by the Linguistic Society of Papua New Guinea and the Society on Pidgins and Creoles in Melanesia. Volumes 13-22 were published once a year; beginning with volume 23 it is published twice a year.

As usual, Language and Linguistics in Melanesia covers the linguistic situation in Melanesia, where one fourth of the world's languages are spoken, as symbolised by the cover design.

The journal focuses on data-oriented articles with theoretical implications. In addition, it is open for reactions or replies to recent papers, squibs (brief notes or observations regarding natural language phenomena), letters to the editors, and book reviews.

All correspondence for the reviews section should be addressed to Ana Kila; all other editorial correspondence should be addressed to John Clifton. All manuscripts should be submitted in three copies, and should be typed fully double-spaced in a font not small than 12 point (10 characters per inch), single-sided. The title, but not the author's name, should appear on the first page. The author's name should not appear on any following pages in any way that might identify the author as such. The title, author's name, author's affiliation, and full mailing address(es) should appear on a separate sheet of paper. In case there is more than one author, an indication should be made as to the author responsible for proofreading.

Six copies of each article published are provided free of charge.
