The Everyday Wonder of Relationship: We Are Star Stuff

Not just beautiful, though-- the stars are like the trees in the forest, alive and breathing.
And they're watching me.

The Everyday Wonder of Relationship

There is only God. The way we relate to ourselves, one another, the world, and with The Universal Power are all interconnected and inseparable. We cannot claim to love God while hating ourselves. We cannot declare that it is a Just and Equitable Universe while treating others (people, animals, the Earth) unjustly and inequitably.

This month is the invitation to anchor in the Spiritual Practice of Engaged Relationships and actively revel in the wonder of how each relationship is ultimately a relationship of Spirit with ItSelf.

Reverend Joe Kovach

Let's explore our relationship with nature. The aspect of nature that includes rocks, soil, plants, waters, and animals of the Earth, as well as the ways in which we are part of nature. If we see nature as that which is "out there," we treat it no differently as when we "other" someone by seeing them as separate and different from us. We are intimately affected by all aspects of nature, but are we consciously in loving relationship with it?

We believe the Power breathing us is greater than any circumstance, situation, or condition.

Our MISSION is to provide spiritual tools for personal and global transformation.

Our PURPOSE is to awaken humanity to its spiritual magnificence; to awaken our community to its Divine Nature and the greatest expression of who we are.

Our VISION is a world that works for everyone.
