

Terms and Conditions

A deposit is required in addition to the contract to reserve any specified character, theme, rental, photographer for a specific time and date. The above mentioned deposit is non-refundable if the client does not show or changes the session. If the service provider does not appear at the agreed location and time specified above, the deposit shall be refunded in full to the client. Any service performed at such event will be available for completion of payment at the time/date of the service. No service will be given to the client indicated above without an applicable fee unless stated otherwise.

The client will assist and cooperate with the service provider(s) in gaining any such requests such as specifying the amount of participants and the location and be a part of the event: precession consultations, etc. the service provider is not going to be responsible for the events that are not done to the client's failure to be cooperative and of reasonable assistance.

It is the client's duty and agreed upon that the client will ensure the safety of all the clients guests, participants, as well as anyone and/or anything affiliated with The Costume Company. The client accepts all responsibility for any and all injuries, legal situations and or circumstances.

The characters are generic and in no way affiliated with the Hollywood Characters.

I hereby authorize The Costume Company to take photos throughout the duration of the party for use in but not limited to advertising, web design, printed ads, etc. This contract is law abiding and was signed at the client's free will, with no other outstanding contracts conflicting this legal agreement with The Costume Company.

Print Name _____

Sign Name _____

After the party we request that you fill out a short 5 question Party Questioner, to help us serve you better.